

Permanent Crime Prevention Committee for S. Bruno

By WILL THOMAS

Wasting little time, the San Bruno City Council Monday night approved a move to create a permanent Crime Prevention Committee.

The action came upon motion by Councilman George Corey shortly after formal presentation of the temporary eight-month-old Crime Prevention Committee's final report.

Paul Baldwin, principal of Peninsula High School, submitted the report formally to the council. Baldwin, chairman of the committee, said he presented the report's findings both "with a great deal of pleasure and relief."

He outlined the committee's belief that a permanent Crime Prevention Committee should be formed.

"We believe in order to get the citizens involved in a program of this kind, some group of citizens must know the needs and the problems of the police department," Baldwin declared.

He also emphasized that the committee thought the city ought to "find some means of organizing a group of dedicated people to do everything they could to help prevent crime."

Baldwin explained that "police departments can do only so much — the rest is up to the citizens."

Baldwin also hoped that formation of the body as a permanent committee might lead the people of San Bruno toward a common goal.

But Baldwin also pointed to a potential hazard in the report. It involved implementation of the proposals.

"I believe this report can be somewhat dangerous," the educator declared.

"If you have read it," he asserted, "you realize there are no threats — nothing in the report that says we have to or you must do something right now, and I am fearful that this could serve as ammunition for people who wait to act until there is a real problem."

Baldwin declared that the committee agreed that the most "certain" thing to come out of its probing was that "crime is on the increase and it is going to continue this way."

He urged San Brunans to take action immediately.

"Unless the people of San Bruno and its leaders do something now to head it off," Baldwin claimed, "you will have a problem."

The committee, he said, thought it could do the most good "in pointing out, perhaps, where the citizens of San Bruno could help in crime prevention."

Other proposals in the report that were acted upon with favor by the councilmen:

— Park closing times, use of restrooms, construction of obstructions across or on public property, anti-loitering.

— Formation of a public relations and information organization, membership unspecified, and expected to include citizens and representatives from as many San Bruno organizations as care to participate — as well as individuals, operating under police chief's direction.

— Ridealong plan, where in San Bruno residents of varying ages would ride in patrol cars, view police operations.

It was emphasized by Mayor Neil Christal that the recommendations were "not going to be shelved."

Other items in the report probably will be considered during forthcoming budget sessions, due to begin at 7:30 p.m., May 9.

AT 'AWARDS DINNER'

Volunteer Fire Dept. 'Gonged' Out in D.C.

Twelve Men Remained At the End

By FRANK LAPIERRE

After more than 60 years of chasing fires without charge, the Daly City Volunteer Fire Department was "gonged" out of existence Saturday night at a special dinner.

The dinner turned out to be a final meeting of the 12 volunteers and city council.

Superior Judge Frank Blum emceed the affair at Val's Redwood Restaurant with mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett and councilmen Tony Giamonna and Michael De Bernardi presenting each retiring volunteer with a plaque attesting to his service to Daly City.

For some 60 years since the day after the 1906 quake, the volunteers of Company Six and Co. Four answered alarms with everything from water buckets to the modernized apparatus used today. They were responsible for safeguarding life and property in what is today Daly City.

Mel Hansen traced the history of the organization, calling the volunteers a "special breed" of people who devoted their time and helped shape the present city.

Frank Tardelli called the dinner a "sad occasion."

This sentiment was echoed by mayor Lycett who confessed he had mixed emotions over the "end of the volunteers in Daly City."

The forced retirement of the dozen or so men will become effective today.

Oldest member of the department is Leo Kasper with 37 years service. Others counted as little as one year, with the bulk of the men falling in the seven-year category.

Keynote speaker at the dinner was veteran councilman Edward J. Dennis who praised the men for their past contributions to the city.

"They did it (firefighting) from their hearts — not for the money," he said.

But it was time the volunteers were phased out and their duties taken over by the 62 men. (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

Hamilton Named To State Group

Veteran San Bruno City Councilman Maurice Hamilton Monday was sworn in as a member of Gov. Ronald Reagan's Council on Intergovernmental Relations.

Hamilton was administered the oath of office by, and received his commission from City Clerk Carl Hultberg during the early stages of the city council's regular meeting.

Hultberg read a letter from the governor to Hamilton: "It is with a great deal of pleasure that I appoint you a member of the Council of Intergovernmental Relations. In accepting this appointment you will be making a worthwhile contribution to the council and California."

Hamilton explained that the committee's functions primarily (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Park Won't Be Named For Late Plans Chief

Pacifica councilmen Monday denied a request to rename a park or recreation building in the Fairmont area after Edward R. Libonati, former chairman of the Pacifica Planning Commission and active civic worker who was killed last month in an automobile accident.

Several residents petitioned the council to name either a park or a recreation center in memory of Libonati, a former president of the Fairmont Homeowners' Improvement Association, and to erect a "suitable plaque" commemorating his service to the city.

However, James McDonald,

current president of the homeowners' group, requested that the plaque be erected, but that the names of the park and recreation facilities remain as they are "in keeping with the PB&R Commission's established policy."

Councilman Rick Wallis introduced a motion to rename the Fairmont Recreation Center the "Edward R. Libonati Recreation Center," but the motion died for lack of a second.

Councilman Harland Minshew then introduced a motion to order a suitable plaque commemorating Libonati's service designed and placed inside the recreation building.

Trio Shoots Cannon At Devil's Slide

Three San Bruno youths were arrested yesterday after highway patrolmen caught them shooting a homemade cannon on the beach at Devil's Slide.

It was just fun for the three Capuchino High School students but the officers saw it as a dangerous violation of several laws.

Booked at county jail for possession of a destructive device, possession of explosives and for firing on forbidden Devil's Slide were Robert Lee Honan, 19, of 232 San Felipe Avenue, and Victor Lombardi, 19, of 151 Balboa Way. Victor's brother, Richard, 17, was taken to Hillcrest Juvenile Hall.

Patrolmen M. L. Stark and F. Rollin said they were on patrol on Cabrillo Highway yesterday afternoon when they came upon a car parked directly under a "No Parking at Any Time" sign. While writing out a (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Coast Council Green-Lights Teen Proposal

A request from student leaders at Oceana High School to change the method of selecting the school's youth of selecting five to the city council was approved Monday by Mayor Nick Gust and council members.

Marti Santos, speaking in behalf of the student government's executive board, said student leaders feel the representative who sits with the council at regular meetings should have voting powers on the school's executive board.

However, student government regulations prohibit anyone from voting on the executive board unless he is elected by the student body.

In the past, the youth representatives to the council have been chosen by principals at Oceana and Terra Nova High schools and members of the city council.

Under the proposal approved Monday, councilmen and school administrators will select a list of nominees for the youth representative positions in the future, and students will then elect one of the nominees, thus qualifying him to vote on the executive board.

The council action was taken "subject to approval of the school administrators."

In the past, high school seniors were eligible for the youth representative positions, with council and administrative approval.

Chubby's Is Damaged By Coast Fire

Chubby's Drive-In Restaurant on Francisco Boulevard in Pacifica was heavily damaged early on Tuesday by a fire which apparently started from an overheated "deep fryer," authorities reported.

Firemen said baker James Morford discovered flames coming from the fryer when he reported to work at 2 a.m., and attempted to extinguish the blaze.

When his efforts proved unsuccessful, Morford telephoned the fire department, but the interior of the building was engulfed in smoke and flames when firemen arrived at 2:30 a.m.

Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars.

Lycett Retained As D.C. Mayor

Bernard (Bud) Lycett was chosen by his fellow councilmen Monday to serve a third straight term as mayor of Daly City.

The move was considered a tribute to Lycett's leadership abilities and contributions made to the city since he was appointed to replace supervisor Robert St. Clair back in 1964.

Francis Pacelli was again named the city's mayor pro tempore, leaving the council exactly as it has been for the past year.

Normally, city councils play musical chairs at this time of the year, with the mayor's gavel being handed over to a different councilman.

But since December, 1966—when Mayor Albert Polonsky resigned to take over (Please See Page 2, Col. 2)

D.C. Woman Fires House, Then Refuses to Leave

A young Daly City woman, reportedly depressed and drinking heavily, set fire to her Portola Avenue home early on Tuesday, and then refused to leave the burning structure.

Police and firemen had to forcibly remove Mrs. Maria Major from the building "for her own safety," authorities said.

The mother had sent her two boys — age 6 and 8 — outside to the car of a male friend.

She then re-entered the home, assertedly splashed lighter fluid over furniture, drapes and curtains in the home's living and dining rooms and the kitchen, then set it afire.

The flames, swept by strong morning winds, gutted the kitchen, dining and living rooms and caused extensive heat and smoke damage throughout.

Fire Chief Herb Ritzmann said.

When the front window broke, the winds rushed through the house, fanning the blaze, Ritzmann explained.

Flames were shooting as high as 25 feet above the house when firemen arrived on the scene, where they spent two hours combatting and mopping up the blaze.

Colma Land Annexation Is Approved

A public hearing on the annexation of some 72 acres of Colma land was closed Monday with no opposition, either in writing or verbal, concerning the transfer.

The council hastily passed a resolution approving the annexation, thus bringing development of a multi-million dollar mobile home park on the slopes of San Bruno Mountain a few steps closer to realization.

The resolution and council's action now must go to Sacramento for filing — completing the annexation.

City Attorney Albert Polonsky informed the council of the long trail, such annexation requires: the developers first had to obtain the sanction of LAFCO (Local Agency Formation Commission) next move was to de-annex the property from Colma, and, finally, annex it to Daly City.

Monday night's council action still does not give the developers a "green light" for the project — they must again come before the city and ask for a use permit and perhaps a zone change to allow construction of the park.

At that time, the city will undoubtedly place certain restrictions on the development.

The annexation is permanent, however, the lands must be used for cemetery purposes once the lease expires and the property reverts back to the owners — the Cypress Abbey Company.

Cash Offer 'Ridiculously Low'—Gust

By DON GRIERSON

Pacifica councilmen refused to approve a tentative map for the new Park Pacifica Three subdivision Monday, after disagreeing with developers of the tract over the "fair market value" of a two-acre park site.

Charles Trifeletti, representing Challenge Development Company, proposed in submitting the map that the city accept cash instead of a 2.21-acre parcel of land to be dedicated as a park site in connection with the development.

When City Planner Larry McLaughlin computed the "fair market value" of the land on the basis of assessed valuation, the price totaled only about $5,000 per acre, a figure rejected "out of hand" by Mayor Nick Gust and other council members as "ridiculously low."

Trifeletti, who became somewhat irate during the discussion, told councilmen he had an "understanding" with the city staff that cash would be accepted instead of the park site under a procedure prescribed in a new city ordinance.

"We have followed this line of thinking in planning the development, and I think it is rather said we have come this far, then got hung up on this point," the developer said.

Mayor Gust and council members agreed that the city needs cash to develop existing park sites "more than we need the additional land," but insisted that a reappraisal of the value (Please See Page 2, Column 1) of the parcel be submitted before accepting the tentative map. The new ordinance outlining the "in lieu" payment procedure has never been utilized, and councilmen indicated they wish to "iron out any difficulties in determining fair market value" before proceeding with the initial application.

City Attorney John Sherman said it would be necessary to reach a decision on whether or not cash would be accepted instead of the land before the tentative map could be approved. At that point councilmen decided to delay a decision until further information on the valuation of the property can be obtained from the county assessor's office.

Trifeletti said the Laguna Salada Elementary School District intends to purchase an extra two-and-a-half acres at a school site in the subdivision for joint city-school use, and proposed that the city accept cash instead of land and apply the cash to development of the school property set aside for joint use. Mayor Gust posed the question of whether or not the city could "take the acreage, and let the school spend the money they would have paid for the extra two-and-a-half acres to develop our park site."

"What you are saying is that you want the same price for the two-acre park site that the school district would pay for their extra acreage," Trifeletti said.

"If you can sell it to the school district for $10,000, why should we accept $5,000?" Gust asked.

Trifeletti repeatedly stated he had "no idea" what Challenge would charge the school district for the land.

"All I am asking is that you approve the tentative map, and agree with the concept of accepting cash instead of acreage," he said.

"As it stands now, I would take the acreage," Gust said.

"Then that would blow the whole thing," Trifeletti replied. "You have allowed your staff and myself to go down the merry path for two years, and that's not fair."

"We are ready to begin work on the subdivision. The school district is pushing to get the school site in, and we also have to relocate the Coastside Corral."

"I would also remind you that the city would receive $350,000 in fees for this development, and there is more involved here than just two acres of land," he said.

Councilman Rick Wallis said he would "personally like more information on the price of land" before reaching a decision, and Councilman Harlan Minshew stated he feels the new ordinance nance "should be clarified now, before we run into further difficulties."

The council agreed to call a special meeting to consider the tentative map further as soon as additional information can be obtained from the county assessor's office.

The Pacifica Planning Commission has already approved the tentative map.

citation, they heard a loud explosion from the beach below. It sounded like dynamite, the officers thought. Then there was a second explosion and a cloud of smoke rose from the beach, followed by a third report.

The officers climbed down to the beach, rounded a rocky outcropping and came upon the cannon imbedded in the sand. The boys were standing nearby. Also at the scene the officers found a quantity of gunpowder, some fuse material and steel projectiles weighing about one pound each.

Honan said the cannon was one he had had in his possession for some time and which he had remodeled by welding the breech end closed. The projectiles, cut from an old auto axle, were not fired toward the ocean or the highway, Honan said, but into a tall bluff jutting out from the shore.

Honan said each time after the fuse was lit he and his buddies would run and dive behind a pile of rocks for safety. The recoil was only about two feet each time, however, he said.

After booking at county jail, Honan, and Victor Lombardi were released without bail pending arraignment in municipal court at 2 p.m. May 5. Richard Lombardi was also released from Hillcrest pending further investigation.

He pledged to continue this harmony in the coming year.

Seamanship

The Daly City Recreation Department is co-sponsoring a Basic Seamanship Course with the Coast Guard Auxiliary, Flotilla No. 18.

O'Rourke Is Commended By Council

Wilfred (Bill) O'Rourke, veteran Daly City Recreation Commissioner who recently resigned to accept a new post in San Jose, was commended by the council Monday for his contributions to the city over the past ten years.

In a resolution passed unanimously the council noted that O'Rourke had been instrumental in the acquisition and dedication of several park sites and Tot-lots within the city.

O'Rourke was appointed to the commission in 1959 and had served as chairman on two occasions — in 1963 and again in 1968.

He represented the city as a member of the Regional Planning Committee of San Mateo County and also served as a member of the City and County Parks Subcommittee in the development of the Parks and Open Space Master Plan.

"... O'Rourke has distinguished himself by his good counsel and careful advice and has faithfully fulfilled the responsibilities of his office in connection with the citizens of this community," the resolution read.

are in "the realm of intergovernmental relations, studying such things as the impact of Local Agency Formation through-out the state."

The San Bruno attorney noted that the next meeting of the council will be May 8.

"The major topic of consideration then," he said, "is going to be the proposals on regional government. Of course, I've worked a lot with this."

He explained that he has been a member of LAFCO since 1963; is on his third term as chairman, and he has worked with the Association of Bay Area Government (ABAG) for six years.

"So," Hamilton pointed out, "I've been doing quite a bit of this anyway, and I'm really looking forward to it."

He concluded, "As the oath says, I take it freely."

Public Aid Promoted By Bruno Unit

San Bruno's Crime Prevention Committee, noting the police department "good" and noting the "airport city" to be free of "overwhelming crime problems," has emphasized a need to promote public responsibility in aid of law enforcement and crime prevention.

That recommendation was among 42 proposals submitted to the city council Monday night by the committee named last June to "improve, where possible, the services of the San Bruno law enforcement agency and to aid in the prevention of crime."

The committee's function was not to probe the San Bruno Police Department.

Summary of the recommendations: —A permanent eight-member Crime Prevention Committee should be created by ordinance, with formation similar to present city commissions.

—City Manager Gerard Vergeer should determine immediately the availability of aid from the federal anti-crime bill and other sources to aid in crime prevention and training of law enforcement personnel officers.

—Addition of at least two officers to the police department, plus employment of a police technician.

—Additional pay for officer in charge of detectives, who would be given title of "detective sergeant."

—The chief of police, or his representative, should become an ex officio member of the city's personnel board when consideration is being given to police applicants.

—A continuing program of in-service training.

—Examination and evaluation by the permanent committee of various duties being performed by the police, with subsequent determination as to whether or not they should be omitted, transferred to other departments or expanded.

—Development by the chief of a three-year projection of police department needs, and that a study of the equipment necessary to increase the security of delivering prisoners to the city jail be included in the first such report.

—Additional walkie-talkie radios, riot helmets and tape recorders, a movie projector, cameras, a three-wheeler motorcycle, technician facilities and relocation of the mugging room to an area formerly the identification clerk's office.

Representation of the police department by an ex officio capacity with the Park and Recreation Commission and Planning Commission in all phases of its operation and shall make reports and recommendations regarding crime prevention considerations.

The report also urged that city parks be closed at 10 p.m., except for officially approved activities, and that no person over the age of six years shall be in, or use restroom and washroom facilities designed for the opposite sex.

It was further recommended that a person shall not be permitted to loiter, stand or lay in or upon any public highway, alley, sidewalk or crosswalk or otherwise "occupy" any portion thereof in such a manner as unreasonably to annoy or molest a pedestrian or obstruct or unreasonably interfere with the free passage of pedestrians.

Other suggestions included the need for city park and other problem areas to be heavily patrolled, on foot "where appropriate"; that an ordinance be enacted that makes it a requirement to have a lighted house number of a size and brightness which would make them visible to the average person on the street in front of such house.

Formation of a public relations and information organization should be considered to "provide the means and leadership to develop a variety of programs, and ensure information that will promote public participation and encourage cooperation with law enforcement, the committee stated.

The committee urged the formation of a teen-aid council, "representing the various geographic sections of the city" and formed to aid in crime prevention; and that the continuing committee fully investigate the potential of teen centers and coffee house facilities.

That the chief of police set up and maintain a program whereby juvenile offenders apprehended in acts of minor criminal activity could be handled on an informal basis was advanced, with perhaps informal punishment being set up between the apprehending officer, the victim and consenting parents.

Study of drug use and the adoption of a city-wide "block parents" program were suggested.

bers of the fulltime department, he said.

Dennis revealed for the first time that efforts were being made to put two half-century-old fire pumps on permanent display in a front room of the new Serramonte fire station.

Some disgruntled volunteers attending the function voiced dissatisfaction over the city's action, which they called "unjustified."

However, there has been increasing criticism of the volunteers in recent months because of their failure to show up at fires.

As an example, last fall several volunteers were called in to assist regular firemen in combating a blaze in a Mission Street motorcycle shop. Only two showed up.

Customarily the volunteers close their meetings by ringing a fire gong. The gong was rung

13 times Saturday night at the end of the meeting while those in attendance stood in silence.

Smith Quits Planning Panel

The resignation of Alfred Smith from the San Bruno Planning Commission was accepted "with regrets" by the City Council last night. Smith gave health as the reason for his resignation.

Lila Hughes Miss Pacifica; 1500 Join Standing Ovation

Five Girls Awarded Scholarships

Lila Hughes, an 18-year-old Terra Nova High School graduate, was named "Miss Pacifica" for 1969 Saturday night at the city's thirteenth annual pageant.

Her selection drew a standing ovation from the crowd of more than 1,500 persons in the Terra Nova auditorium, and the other contestants rushed to throw their arms around the winner when her selection became official.

Gigi Clark, 19, was first runner-up, and Laura Williams took the second runner-up position. Third runner-up was Kathleen McLain, and Patricia Cottrell completed the finalists.

Lila, who succeeds last year's winner Aleena Branson as the city's "fairest of the fair," won the audience with spirited renditions of the Scottish ballad "Loch Lomond" and "Old Black Magic" during the talent competition.

Patricia Cottrell also scored high in the talent division with a vocal modern jazz number.

The first place winner receives a $350 scholarship, the first runner-up $150, and the other three winners $100 awards.

Lila, a five-foot-seven, curvaceous brown-eyed redhead, will compete directly in the "Miss California" Pageant at Santa Cruz, a preliminary of the "Miss America" Pageant at Atlantic City.

Directors of the Pacifica pageant gained a direct franchise for the "Miss America" event last year, and Lila will be the second winner to represent the city at Santa Cruz.

In addition to the 11 contestants in the Saturday night show, former "Miss Pacificas" Aleena Branson and Theresa Roberts (1964) were also on hand.

Sharon Kay Terrill, "Miss California" of 1968, was a special guest at the pageant.

Pageant winners from a number of other Bay Area cities were also on hand for the show, which included swimsuit and evening gown competition, in addition to the talent events.

The annual pageant is sponsored by the Pacific Chamber of Commerce and merchants in the city, and Stan Vander Hule is executive director.

A special "pageant celebration party" followed the show at the Longtable Restaurant.

Susan Beckstead, a 19-year-old College of San Mateo student, was voted "Miss Congeniality" by her fellow contestants.

BART, Daly City Continue Argument

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Daly City mayor Bernard (Bud) Lyett has received a letter from Bay Area Rapid Transit District directors insisting the city either okay an aerial station or come up with $2.5 million for a subway system.

The letter, dated April 23, was merely a rehash of the districts' argument first aired with the council about a year ago.

Daly City has stood fast on its desire for an underground station at the 13-acre Knowles Avenue site — San Mateo County terminus for the entire 75-mile network, while BARTD has maintained it has no funds for such a system.

BARTD also points out that funds for the Daly City terminus were allotted on the basis of an aerial station more than five years ago and the fact that new monies have been recently funded by the State for completion of the line "cannot be interpreted as giving us money to throw around," a spokesman said.

Over the years, the BARTD-Daly City hassle has gradually grown bitter, as evidenced by the cooling of relations between the two agencies and the foot-dragging on communicating with each other.

While each party claims "our doors are open" to the other, the last two letters regarding the station have emanated from BARTD.

Daly City's last official communication with the district was in late fall of 1968.

At that time City Councilman Michael De Bernardi and city manager Edward Frank paid an official visit of BARTD headquarters and handed the directors an eight-point demand sur-sored by the Pacific Chamber of Commerce and merchants in the city, and Stan Vander Hule is executive director.

A special "pageant celebration party" followed the show at the Longtable Restaurant.

The major insistence was on building an underground station, signalization and channelization of certain roads in the station area and parking for more cars than BARTD had originally planned on during "Phase One" construction.

On December 11, 1968, then-BARTD president James Doherty of El Cerrito (considered no great fan of Daly City) wrote a letter to Mayor Lyett explaining that agency's stand on the eight demands.

The only thing BARTD agreed to do without argument was signalization of the streets.

Money was the determining factor in meeting all other Daly City stipulations.

It would cost some $500,000 to build a roadway under Knowles Avenue into the parking lot and it would wipe out about 20 parking spaces, thus costing BARTD $20,000 in lost revenues.

Another Knowles Avenue improvement (widening and straightening) would set the district back another $200,000, not to mention the $300,000 it would cost to improve St. Charles between the station area and across into San Francisco.

The purchasing of right-of-way 800 feet inside San Francisco to widen St. Charles from two to four lanes was not investigated.

In all, more than $1.1 million would be required to meet Daly City's request.

This figure was over and above the $2.5 million difference in construction of the station itself. There was another hook in this whopping figure — costs of engineering designs.

A similar circumstance confronted Berkeley residents during pre-construction and when it was learned a $20.5 million difference existed in what BARTD wanted to give and what Berkeley wanted. The matter went to a bond vote and the subway system was assured.

Berkeley is in the District and Daly City is not.

Music Concert At Westmoor On May Ninth

The annual Westmoor High School music Concert will be held May 9 in the boys' gymnasium, beginning at 8 p.m. Participating in the concert will be the school's stage band, string orchestra, concert band and modern dance group.

Featured in the performance will be an original composition, "Porcelain Glass," by student Greg Adams, and "an original pop composition by a grandmother of one of the music students."

Three students, Adams, Robin Kramer and Jim Bari, will direct portions of the performance.

A "drum battle" by Kenneth Wickham, Nancy Kramer and Mike Hinton will also be performed.

Tickets are available from the music department at the high school.

Boy Knifed, School Sued

A $125,000 claim against the Jefferson Union High School District in Daly City-Pacific was rejected and referred to its insurance carrier last night.

The claim was filed on behalf of Albert and Harriet Tassi, whose son, Albert, Jr., died of knife wounds inflicted by another student on February 10 at Terra Nova High School, Pacifica.

JEFFERSON GRAD WICHITA FALLS, Tex. — Airman Steven A. Quinteros, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Quinteros of 250 Abbott Avenue, Daly City, has been graduated from a U.S. Air Force technical school at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

He was trained as an aircraft mechanic and has been assigned to a unit of the Tactical Air Command at George AFB, Calif.

The airman is a graduate of Jefferson High School.

S.M. Leaders Back Plan

San Mateo County civic leaders who are urging voter approval of the transit master plan at the special election on Tuesday June 10 were enthusiastic over Wednesday's action of the Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

The board approved a $13,950,000 intra-county bus service plan and proposed planning that will eventually lead to a $1 billion connection with the West Bay Rapid Transit system at the San Mateo County line in Menlo Park and with the East Bay terminus of the Bay Area Rapid Transit system at Fremont in Alameda County.

Frank B. Ingersoll, Jr., chairman of the campaign to win voter approval of the West Bay plan said, "The adoption of a bus feeder system and intra-county bus plan directly coordinates the plans and objectives of San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties."

Glen Ireland, transit expert and adviser to the citizens committee for "yes on transit master plan" declared that he was delighted with Santa Clara's action and enthusiastic about working with them towards ultimate solution to the transit and traffic problem of San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties.

A 'Wake-Up For Jobs' Breakfast

"Wake up for jobs" will be the theme of a breakfast meeting scheduled for May 8 at 7:45 at International Jose's. Sponsored by the North County Business Leadership Council, the purpose of the meeting is to develop summer job commitments from local businessmen for the economically deprived of the area.

Clem Daniels, Bay Area representative of "Athletes for Jobs" under the sponsorship of the California State Chamber of Commerce will be guest speaker.

It is expected that the program will be co-sponsored by the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

James V. Grealish is chairman of the breakfast. Reservations may be made by calling 755-2262.

South S.F. Seeks Visitors For National Police Week

National Police Week has been designated for May 11 to 17 by President Nixon and will be observed fully by the South San Francisco Police Department.

Film showings on various phases of police work, an open house and a canine demonstration are included in the program, according to an announcement from Chief John Fabbri.

The films "we feel will inform the public on vitally important subjects such as marijuana, intoxicated drivers, motor vehicle safety and self-defense for women. The films are suitable for all age groups. We hope you will come and will encourage your friends and neighbors to visit us and view our films with the whole family," Fabbri said.

The movies will be shown May 6 through 9 and May 13 through 16 in the city hall council chamber, 400 Grand Avenue.

Police dogs in action will be demonstrated from 7 to 10 p.m. May 14 and 15 and the open house will be from 7:30 to 10 p.m. May 14, 15 and 16.

The film showings will start at 7 p.m. on the scheduled nights and include:

"Mechanized Death," which shows the dangers and results of unsafe driving habits. "This is a must for everyone who drives," Fabbri says. "Marijuana," at 7:30, believed to be "the best film available on this subject," according to Fabbri, will provide "true answers to anyone inquisitive about marijuana. It deals honestly with the subject." Narrator is Sonny Bono of Sonny and Cher;

"Hydroplaning," at 8, will answer questions about automobile behavior on wet streets because "most people have little or no idea what really happens" under these conditions, Fabbri says;

"Attack," at 8:20, is for the lady of the house but contains some pointers in the art of self-defense for anyone who might be attacked;

"Every Hour—Every Day," at 8:40, is an insight into modern police work and, according to Fabbri, an excellent film for young people considering careers in law enforcement.

"UFO—Unrestrained Flying Objects," at 9:10, details what happens to driver and passengers in an automobile accident when not wearing seat belts and when they are and have them fastened;

"Drinking Drivers," at 9:30, tells about the foolhardiness of downing "one for the road" and the resulting inept and accident-prone driving. This isn't a temperance lecture but simply cold, hard facts confirmed in a series of tests at the General Motors Proving Ground, Fabbri states.

The Broadmoor Property Owners' Association will hold its annual beauty contest on May 23, it was announced today by Kay Ickler, director of the BPOA Fourth of July parade, over which the winner will preside.

The contest is open to girls between the ages of 14 and 18 years. The entrants must live in Broadmoor or the adjacent unincorporated Colma areas.

D.C. Bids To Close Cafe

The city of Daly City filed suit in Superior Court April 23 to close down a restaurant in the New Westlake Market at 555 Knowles Avenue.

The suit, prepared by City Attorney Albert E. Polonsky, states that the restaurant, owned by Sid Jeow, is not licensed and is in violation of state law.

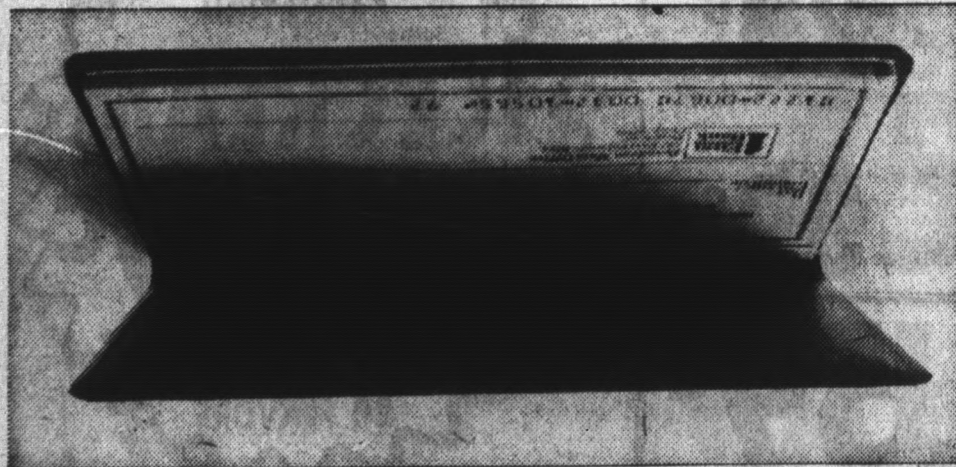

The complaint asks that the operation be enjoined until and unless Jeow obtains a permit from the County Health Department.

D.C. Police Jail Man

Daly City police aided U.S. Marshals in the arrest of Leland Belfils, 24, of 159 Werner Street, for failure to report for induction into the Army Thursday afternoon.

Lt. Tom Cully, of the Daly City police department, said Belfils was picked up as he walked down a city street shortly after law enforcement agencies here received a Federal warrant for his arrest. He was later transferred to the San Mateo County Sheriff's Office.

The next time you buy a car, get something you don't pay for:

a free checking account.

If you get one of our car loans, you get a free checking account for the duration of that loan. Now that may not be the biggest deal in the world, but it's nothing to sneeze at.

It can save you $72. Easily. Say you decide on a three-year car loan. And say your checking account charges average $2 a month. When you're not paying those charges, you'll save $24 a year. In three years that adds up to a tidy $72.

Which might lead you to suspect that we recoup the $72 by raising our interest rates. Not so.

Our bank interest rates are a savings in themselves. Because we know the lower they are, the more loans we make and the bigger we get. And even though we're a $900 million bank, we're still ambitious. So get your car loan at a bank that wants to get ahead. By saving you money.

NORTH COUNTY DEATHS

ARTHUR B. KVARME

Funeral services were conducted on Friday at 10 a.m. at the Patterson and O'Connell Chapel for Arthur B. Kvarme, 56, of 348 Susie Way, South San Francisco. He was pronounced dead on arrival April 22 at County General Hospital, a drowning victim in a Belmont swimming pool.

He was a native of Oslo, Norway, and had lived in this state for the past 25 years and the county for 20 years.

Kvarme was a photo-engraver by occupation for the past 39 years. Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Mabel Kvarme of South San Francisco; a son, Allen; daughter, Mrs. Monica Gurski, both of San Mateo; his mother, Mrs. Helga Robertson of Millbrae; a brother, Arvid, of Walnut Creek; two stepdaughters and two stepbrothers, Mrs. Solvig Sexton, Mrs. Jane Granucci, both of Millbrae; Jack Kvarme of San Jose and Clinton Kvarme of Santa Rosa; and five grandchildren.

He was a member of San Mateo Lodge No. 1112, B.P.O.E.; the Atwater Lodge No. 622 of the F.A.M. of Los Angeles, and the California bodies of A & A Scottish Rite of San Francisco.

Actual case experiences were used and particular emphasis was given to the technique of examination, diagnosis and immediate treatment of the trauma patient. Two video tapes, "Emergency: Unified Care" and "Emergency: Maxillo-Facial Team," both filmed at Mary's Help, were a part of the course.

In opening the seminar, George L. Torassa, Jr., M.D., program chairman, remarked: "The broad scope of trauma continually coming to this institution has required our staff to bring the best care to the community on a 24-hour basis... we know the passing on of our experience will add to the overall care of the trauma patient."

Dr. Torassa is chairman of the hospital's department of surgery and chief of the division of urology. He was assisted by program co-chairmen, Merrill C. Mensor, M.D., and Paul Negulescu, M.D.

ERNEST FRANCIS BAPTISTE

Narcotics Unit Seen

A recommendation that a county narcotics commission be established as an official arm of county government was endorsed unanimously Thursday by the County Narcotic Advisory Committee.

Dr. Floyd Gonella of the Jefferson Union High School District, who made the suggestion, said an agency with powers of its own to deal with narcotics problems would be preferable to the present situation, where the committee is merely advisory to the County Board of Supervisors.

The idea of a narcotics commission, which would have a full-time staff, was endorsed by District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson.

A tuneful program for the Miss Industrial City Pageant May 17 in South San Francisco will unveil two original songs, one of the loves of the ancient gods, and the other carrying the title "Miss Industrial City— The Fairest In The Land," pageant officials report.

The lyrics, work of Earl Fredricks of Daly City, musical director of the pageant for the past two years, will provide "the first pageant song composed expressly in the name of the new queen.

"Thus, this year's pageant will be the only pageant in Northern California with a song expressly for its queen," a publicist notes.

While dabbling with ancient mythology, the girls are still working and training hard for their stint on the boards, and have been joined by two wins Niki and Miki Catanzaro, in their competition.

The pageant theme, relating to the love of Daphne and Apollo in addition to the song, "Mirabile Visu," will include fountains, pillars and costumes. In a more modern mood, the girls will attend a barbecue in their honor Saturday at the home of a pageant official. Tickets for the El Camino High School auditorium event are available at Adriennes Beauty Salon in Winston Manor;

Airport Tire Service, Linden Avenue and Schumacher's School of Theatrical Dance in Sunshine Gardens.

Contestants include, in addition to the twins, Bonnie McBird, Cheryl Lloyd, Tami Silva, Julie Furguson, Marty Skrivors, Linda Santiago, Deena Zinn, Mary Hefner and Karina Weman.

A recent survey of the physical condition of South San Francisco residences has produced gratifying results," City Planner Daniel Pass reported this week.

In a special report to planning commissioners, Pass states that "while South San Francisco has some definite environmental and planning problems, its residential structures are predominantly sound."

The survey on physical condition of housing in the city, conducted jointly by the planning office, building department and planning consultant Neal Martin, was confined to "external characteristics."

According to the city planner, the survey showed that 98.85 per cent of the city's 13,017 houses are "sound dwelling units." City inspectors classified 93 homes as "deteriorating dwelling units." Deteriorating dwell-

Fifty-seven houses were defined as "dilapidated dwelling

According to the city planner, "dilapidated dwelling units" are "residential structures characterized by irremediable physical decay."

These dwellings, according to the planner, are "often dangerous to life and limb."

The "deteriorating structures" are centered in the downtown "urban core" area, where 38 buildings were given that classification.

Eighteen such structures were noted in Peck's Subdivision, 18 in Irish Town, 11 on Grand Avenue, four in Paradise Valley, two in Valley Park, one in Sterling Terrace and one in the Town of Baden area.

Of the "dilapidated structures," 21 are located in Irish Town, 15 in the urban core, seven on Grand Avenue, six in Valley Park, six in Peck's Subdivision and two in the Town of Ba-

The small percentage of dilapidated and deteriorating structures results from the municipality's "comparatively large post bellum growth and development," Pass said.

"South San Francisco's population increase from 19,351 in 1950 to about 50,000 in 1969 has been paced by the creation of new residential areas, and the establishment of higher planning and developmental stand-

Residential hotels, motels, residences above stores, trailer parks and similar land uses were not evaluated in the sur-

These "quasi-commercial" uses will be considered in a special study at a later date, the planner said.

Pass is recommending that the report just completed be included in the "housing element" of the city's general plan.

McLennan Is

Robert McLennan, a member of the Brisbane council for the past three years, was elected mayor of the city last week by a unanimous vote of his fellow councilmen.

McLennan, who has served as vice mayor for the past two years, succeeds outgoing mayor John Bell. Dr. S. J. Guardino was named vice mayor at the meeting last week.

Neil Christal took over the reins as the new mayor of San Bruno last night.

It was a simple procedure, without ceremony.

Councilman George Corey thought the occasion deserved better. Or, at least, deserved

"I went to a gala event in Millbrae the other evening," Corey reminisced. "When they elected their mayor, they coincidental to that had a real fine party."

Corey looked to future:
"I am hopeful that next year perhaps we'll keep that in mind and perhaps hold the election of our mayor at a meeting where there either is no other business to be transacted or a special meeting called for that purpose and perhaps we, too, can have a gain event . . ."

An eight-year-old San Bruno schoolboy suffered a fractured leg and cuts and bruises when he was hit by a car near his home.

San Bruno police said that Charles Head of 2291 Whitman Way apparently ran out into the

'3 Blithe Spirit' Performances

Westmoor High School will be performing three performances of the comedy by Noel Coward, "Blithe Spirit," May 1, 2, 3, at 8 p.m.

The basic plot of the story is that Charles Condomine, (played by senior Steve Grable), was married once and his first wife died. He then remarries. Suddenly, Charles' first wife comes back from the dead in an attempt to convince her past husband to return with her to the Spirit World. In so doing, she accidentally kills Charles' second wife and both wives come back to haunt Charles. The wives, played by Carol Tryon junior and Marie Jeppson (Sophomore, respectively), end up going through ordeals never before shown on Westmoor's "Little Theatre" stage because of Charles' attempt to get them back to where they belong.

The play is under the direction of Kenneth Brown, Westmoor's drama instructor, publicity being handled by Ron Wells and Carol Tryon, costumes by LaRonda Wirth special effects by Sandi Hansen and Jim Wells and makeup by John Walsh. Props are being gathered by Vera Jacobson and Marilyn Alarcon.

DATEBOOK

Louanne Heath

Magic World, the Our Lady of Mercy Festival, makes its debut tomorrow, following many months of planning and organizing by the festival committee and weeks of construction work done by John Bouchard.

According to Mrs. Edward Avanzino, publicity chairman, General chairman Chuck Boerio has okayed plans for 22 booths, entertainment by Bugs the Clown and the serving of a dinner, to be donated by Joe's of Westlake on Saturday.

In keeping with the fanciful theme of the event, all the booths have been christened with names taken from children's classics. General Merchandise, cared for by George Snell and John Kachur, will be sold under the marque bearing the inscription "Aladdin's Lamp." Three Little Pigs, ham and bacon, will be the responsibility of Charles Santuccio and Anthony LaStella. Bob McLeod will be stationed in a booth marked Hansel, selling toys for boys. Peter Balestrieri and Sebastian Passanisi will be tending the grocery store under the sign, The Magic Pantry. Sinbad the Sailor will feature goldfish and Frank Byrne and Andrew Skirra will man the post. Norman Gehre and Joe O'Gorman will serve Witches Brew, prosaically known as refreshments, and Silver Lining, cared for by Jack Breslin and Frank Maganani, will offer glassware.

The chicken dinner will be served between 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. on Saturday and Mrs. Frank Kelechava is now accepting calls for reservations.

The festival is staged annually by the parish festival committee to benefit the building fund. Members of the community, in addition to parishioners, are invited to enjoy the fun and partake of the dinner.

Think Fuchsia, appears to be the key phrase among members of the Mary's Help Hospital Guild these past weeks as preparations continue for the guild's annual gala, the Fuchsia Ball, to be presented on May 17 in the Gold Room of the Fairmont Hotel.

Mrs. Frank Lawson is the chairman of the traditional spring affair which is staged to help raise funds for a special cardiac unit for the local hospital.

Assisting Mrs. Lawson will be Mrs. Elwin Short, Mrs. Dante Ravetti, Mrs. Bert Heinemann, Mrs. Frank Ingalls, Mrs. Fred Watson, Mrs. Frank Falconi, Mrs. John Swanson, Mrs. Philip Glebow, Mrs. J. Jay Fitzgerald and Mrs. Mario Mangini.

Persons wishing to make reservations are asked to write Mrs. Dante Ravetti, 48 Westpark Drive in Daly City.

Mrs. Robert Terry will be installed as president of the Ignatian Guild during the final meeting for this school year, to be held on May 6 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. David Lavelle, retiring president will preside over the installation in the auditorium of St. Ignatius High School in San Francisco. Others to be installed include:

Mrs. Thomas Carroll, vice president; Mrs. Edward Garvey, secretary and Mrs. Henry Robinson, treasurer.

Mrs. James Raggio, the chairman of the spring fashion show, will give the final report on the financial success of the show held earlier this month, according to Mrs. Theodore Martin, publicity chairman for the guild.

Members of Tau Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will install new officers in rites to be held in the home of Mrs. Joanne Purser on Tuesday, May 13, according to Mrs. Beverly Mannina, publicity chairman for the chapter.

In addition to preparing for the formal installation, members are doing the more mundane chores associated with collecting and pricing items for the White Elephant sale to be staged on May 10 in front of Grant's in Pacifica.

Members of the Fifty Plus Club of Pacifica are putting the finishing touches on a program that they will present on May 18 in the Pacific Manor School.

The afternoon's festivities will be free and in addition to entertainment coffee and cookies will be served guests beginning at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the club is in charge and she is assisted by Mrs. Rose Scanlon, refreshment chairman.

Mrs. Richard Rossi, Mrs. Clifford Righetti, Mrs. Howard Hardon and Mrs. Murray H. Freedman are among the localities who are helping to make the ninetieth anniversary of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association a success.

Mrs. Mark Sullivan, president of the association's auxiliary, has arranged for the reception to be held in the Phoebe A. Hearst Pre-school Learning Center on May 1 from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m.

Mrs. Rhoda Kellogg has prepared an exhibit of children's work from art done in the art classes offered at the center. Mrs. Freedman will be in charge of conducting tours through the school during the reception.

Nancy Freitas and Gary Shelton Wed in S. Bruno

Nancy Freitas and Gary Shelton exchanged their marriage vows Saturday at St. Robert's Catholic Church in San Bruno and met their guests afterward at Russo's Restaurant in San Bruno.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Freitas of San Bruno, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shelton of Tustin are the parents of the bride.

Andrew Freitas escorted his daughter to the altar which was banked with bouquets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. She wore a white organza gown with short sleeves and a train and carried white roses and stephanotis.

She departed from the reception in an orange coat and dress ensemble with navy blue shoes and purse.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

Inexpensive And Quick

Good morning, good cooks.

How about some recipes for dishes that are inexpensive, tasty, quick and easy to make? Am I singing your song? Good.

This first recipe comes from Mrs. Audre Flaherty, who lives at 31 Wawona Street in San Francisco, and it fits all the specifications.

QUICK AND EASY LASAGNA

- 1 lb. ground round
- 1 can tomatoes, No. 2 1/2 size
- 1 can tomato sauce, 8 oz.
- 1 envelope spaghetti sauce mix
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 8 ounces lasagna noodles
- 1 package thin sliced Mozzarella cheese
- 1 cup cream style cottage cheese
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Brown the one pound of ground round, spoon off fat. Add the large can of tomatoes, the can of tomato sauce, the one envelope spaghetti sauce mix and the two minced garlic. Cover and simmer 40 minutes, stirring occasionally. Salt to taste.

Pre-heat the noodles as directed on package. Arrange the noodles in the bottom of a 11 1/2 x 7 1/2 x 1 1/2-inch baking dish. Cover with one-third the sauce, add half the Mozzarella cheese, half cup of cottage cheese. Repeat layers, ending with the sauce. Sprinkle the half cup of Parmesan cheese over top and bake in 350-degree oven for 25 to 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

Both these recipes come from friends who are busy gals and like to have a recipe that will feed the hungry troops fast.

Mrs. Barbara Johnson is a Girl Scout leader and, as all you leaders know, that means that on meeting hand. On a busy day this sausage and corn casserole day you get home a few minutes ahead of your husband will be just the dish needed.

CORN AND PORK CASSEROLE

- 1 pound pork sausage links
- 3 tablespoons sausage drippings
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 1/2 cups of milk
- 1 can whole kernel corn
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 cup cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons drippings for crumbs

Fry the pound of sausage links until lightly browned. Remove from skillet and pour off all but three tablespoons of fat. Add the three tablespoons flour and blend. Slowly add the one and one-half cups of milk, stirring as you add and until it thickens. Add the one can of corn and the two tablespoons of green pepper.

Place half the cup of crumbs in the bottom of a two-quart casserole dish that has been lightly greased. Add half the creamed mixture and most of the sausage, the rest of the creamed mixture and top with the remaining crumbs which have been mixed with the two tablespoons of drippings.

Arrange the remaining sausage on top and bake in 350-degree oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serves four to five.

I guess most people think of French bread and a tossed salad as the perfect accompaniment for a casserole, and you can count me in with most people. This next salad is so good that it goes well with any dinner. Besides being high in food value, it's very eye appealing, too, with the rich green of fresh spinach.

AUDRE'S SPINACH SALAD

- 1 large bunch spinach
- 6 slices bacon
- 2 hard-cooked eggs
- 4 green onions

Clean and break the spinach into bite size pieces. Place in refrigerator to chill. Meantime, fry the six slices of bacon until crisp, crumble and set aside. Hard-cook the eggs, cool and chop fine. Chop the green onions and set aside.

DRESSING

- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 4 tablespoons of honey
- 1/4 cup of tarragon vinegar
- dash of garlic powder

Blend the three-fourths cup olive oil, four tablespoons honey, one-fourth cup of vinegar and garlic powder. Shake well and set aside until ready to serve the salad.

Have the salad bowl and the salad plates chilled, if possible. Combine the spinach, sprinkle the bacon, chopped eggs and chopped green onions over the top. Pour the salad dressing over all and toss.

Serves six.

These next cookies are spicy and sweet and hard to beat. Hmmm, sounds like the opening line of a song, what could we call such a song? The Sugar and Spice Waltz? Or the Raisin Rock?

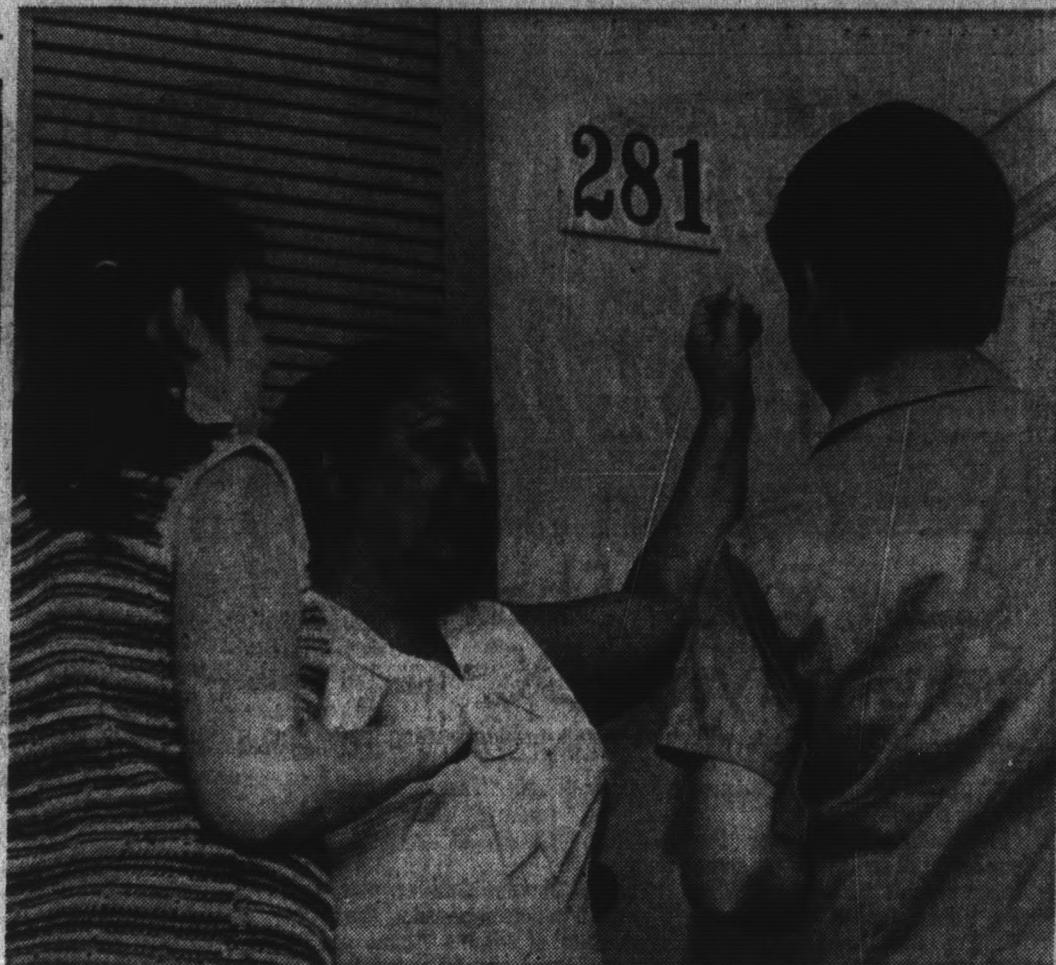

I may not be good at dreaming up songs or song titles, but these cookies are dreamy.

RAISIN SPICE COOKIES

- 1/4 cup of shortening
- 1/2 teaspoon of salt
- 1 teaspoon of cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon of allspice
- 1 1/2 cups of brown sugar
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 1/2 cups of rolled oats
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 1/2 cups of sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/4 cup milk

Combine the three-fourths cup shortening with the one teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon each salt and allspice. Mix well add the one and one-half cups brown sugar. Cream well. Blend in the two beaten eggs. Stir in the one and two-thirds cups rolled oats and the cup of raisins. Sift together the one and one-half cups flour with the teaspoon of soda. Add to the creamed mixture alternately with the one-fourth cup of milk. Mix well.

Dry by teaspoonful onto greased cookie sheet. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in 350-degree oven. Makes four dozen cookies.

A "FAMILY AFFAIR" is how Mrs. Harriett Myerly and her children, Helen and Chris, look at the neighbor-to-neighbor phase of the 1969 Crusade Against Cancer that is being completed in Daly City. The Myerlys were part of an "army" of some 5,000 volunteers marching in the April educational and fund-raising campaign. (Post Photo)

Soph Laura deGhetaldi Wins Trip to Germany

Serramonte's Fault rumbled in the Westmoor Boys Gym to the music of Burning Island and Silber Shadow with light show overtones conjured up by Sweet Misery.

This was Serramonte's second dance and attendance was small.

Let a winner lead the way!

Laura deGhetaldi, a sophomore honor student of Serramonte High, was chosen as the district winner of the Volkswagen Corporation competition, sponsored by Ed Norris, of German foreign language students to lead the way participating in a foreign exchange program this summer.

Her application, accompanied by a recommendation from Laura's German teacher, was selected as one of the 10 finalists — later one of the top four from the JUHS.

The four competitors then had lunch together preceding separate interviews with Ed Norris, his assistant, and city officials.

This summer she will stay in Germany with a foreign family there for two months, one week of which will be occupied by attending school in Germany.

Laura will take guided tours of New York and Washington D.C., as well.

Serramonte's Rally Committee for next year was judged and selected based upon their performances by a group of Serramonte teachers.

Only six of the 14 girls trying out for pep girl positions could be selected.

All the girls performed twice, one in a group routine and once in an individual, original routine.

The winners were Chris Picchi, Liz Riba, Katie Herald, Debbie Ostrow, and Diane Fitzgerald.

OUTLINE OF FURNITURE
PERIODS—PART II

In our weekly column last week we mentioned that surveys show that many people would like an outline of periods in furniture history, and we brought you the first part, stopping with Louis XVI. This week we complete this outline for all you who are interested in it.

EMPIRE. This period reflects the attitude of Napoleon and the French revolution. It was plain instead of elaborate.

QUEEN ANNE. Main characteristics are the curved cabriole leg and the comfortable cushioned wing chair.

18TH CENTURY. This period in England had a great influence on American furniture. It's also known as the Georgian period because several kings named George ruled England during that century.

This period produced some of the greatest designers and cabinet makers in furniture history such as Chippendale, Hepplewhite and Sheraton, whose works became styles of the period. Thomas Chippendale's works were influenced by French, Gothic and Chinese. George Hepplewhite's designs were delicate, beautiful and artistic.

They are recognized by the shield-back chair and by slender, tapered, fluted legs. Thomas Sheraton was a master designer and also became famous for the books he wrote on furniture design. The legs and backs of his chairs are light and graceful.

We hope you enjoyed these two weeks of information on furniture history and we hope some of you might now have a better idea of some of the periods and styles that are often discussed.

D.C. Friends Of Library Ready Sale

The Friends of the Daly City Library today announced that Boy Scout Troop 369 of Daly City will assist at the Book Fair May 11.

This is the fourth consecutive year the troop has helped carry books from the depository at the main library to the Westlake mall and then aid during the sale to keep order, to clean up and to store remaining books at the end of the day.

Leadership for the project is supplied by Eagle Scout Craig Markinson, who has sparked the drive for his troop during the past four years.

Markinson, 16, a sophomore at Westmoor High, announced the names of some of the boys who will help on this community service activity.

They include junior leaders Martin Dreiling and Vince Spadero. Also assisting will be Jim Brooks, Sean Dittmore, Richard Bagnall, Mike Dittmore, George Demakas, Dan Dittmore, Kevin Thorson, Brad DeSoto, Marc Thomas, Steve Taylor, Chris Taylor, Steve Sanders, and Jim Lewis.

Donations of any used books or records are still needed and can be dropped off at any fire station in Daly City or at any of the public libraries.

Workers who are busy every Thursday morning at the Westlake Library pricing the books, urge the community to "pour it on" so that they won't run out of books on which to work.

DC Yugoslav Women's Club Fashion Show

Mrs. William Galea and Miss Mary Dragich, co-chairmen, announced today that the project of the Junior Section of the American Yugoslav Women's Club, the Recreation Center for the Handicapped, will be marked by an annual luncheon and fashion show which will also honor mothers at the Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae May 10.

The fashions will be from Rodina Mendesolle in Stonestown, and the theme is "Say It With Flowers."

Festivities will start at 11:30 a.m. with a no-host cocktail hour.

N. County League of Women Voters Hold Annual Meeting

The Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Pacifica was the site of the April 23 meeting of the League of Women Voters of North San Mateo County.

With over 40 people in attendance, the morning started with a continental breakfast, followed by a skit entitled, "The League of What."

The business portion of the meeting was conducted at 10 a.m. when members were asked to vote on a proposed budget, a proposed slate of officers and a proposed local program as well as adopt areas of continuing responsibility on the county level and the bay area level.

1969-70 will see this active citizen-based group taking up a citizen education and action program. Under this program in education, the League will endeavor to educate its members and citizens as to which governmental bodies to approach with their problems and also inform them on how to address or approach their various representatives and governmental agencies. The action part of the program will include observing local government agencies and reporting information to members regarding League interests and positions as well as speaking or writing to government agencies regarding League positions.

Before the election of the new slate of officers it was time to look back at a job well done in the last year. The LWV of North San Mateo County is 100 members strong, made up of members from Pacifica, Daly City, South San Francisco and San Bruno, working in study unit type meetings in conjunction with general meetings to arrive at consensus in a given area. This year the local league completed a three year study with consensus on U.S.-Red China relations, consensus was also reached on State Finance, at the local level a county study was completed. Some of the positions arrived at in the study include the very current support of a system of public transportation in San Mateo County, geared to public need.

The mayors of a 11 four cities issued proclamations during the year, praising the League on such occasions as United Nations Day and kick off week for the 50th Anniversary Finance drive.

Mrs. Warren Sandell, past president, presented each of the newly elected officers with a yellow rose, which was the emblem of the original suffrage movement from which the League emerged 50 years ago and signifies the forward thinking and action of women in society since that time, she said.

In the area of Voters Service in the last year, the League has registered countless voters and participated in the non-partisan presentation of candidates to the public. Working with other civic and community groups throughout the area, candidates were presented to the public at open "Candidates Nights" and "Candidates Fairs."

The slate of officers: Mrs. Dan D. Newton, president; Mrs. Walter L. Rathbun, first vice president; Mrs. George Avenessian, second vice president; Mrs. Timothy Howley, secretary; and Mrs. Jack Hart, treasurer. Elected directors are: Mrs. Donald Heiman, Mrs. Hugo Holmstrom, Mrs. Dan Robinson, Mrs. Victor Battani, Mrs. Calvin Borlund and Mrs. George Litras.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Newton said that the League must continue as a creator of responsibility and responsiveness in society. Our purpose is to encourage all citizens to take part in government. We are interested in helping all citizens become informed about their national, state and local governments, important issues, and the many ways that an individual can effectively influence government.

Negro Fireman?

YOU HEARD IT FIRST — Could be a Negro hired by the Daly City Fire Department soon, our rumor-monger informs. It'll be a first and how cum? Perhaps the fault is with the tests administered to prospective civil employees?

A high-ranking city employee recently revealed that the present tests are geared for persons with a "white background." In other words, the tests seem to favor white cultural backgrounds.

The method of testing isn't questioned here, only what comprises the tests.

Of the present 200 positions in the city (18 non-classified) the white race clearly dominates all fields — except one. And not necessarily because of discrimination.

Every applicant is given a written exam compiled by the California State Cooperative Services. This public testing agency places a 60 per cent value on the written end of the two-phase test.

AFTER THE WRITTEN test is handed in, it is sent back to the State for correction and rating. All scores are published and the State examiner does not know the race of the person being tested. From the top of this published list the city selects individuals for the oral examination which is administered by three supervisors in various city departments. If there is any discrimination because of race, religion or something, this is where it would hit. But in the years our informant has been connected with administering of these tests he swears they are straight.

To back up his argument of fairness in the tests he points to scores. Most blacks, as an example, register extremely high scores in all phases of building maintenance. Also in recreation. Of the nine blacks employed by Daly City, two are police and the remainder divided between the recreation and building maintenance departments.

In addition to the oral and written tests, applicants must be prepared to pass a stiff medical and background check. They must not have had any felony charges brought against them or be a bad credit risk, generally speaking.

If, in fact, the tests are geared for white cultural backgrounds, then they should be changed. Standards need not be lowered, but re-routed to fit personalities and training of those groups being tested. Daly City is NOT unique in this, San Francisco likewise is predominantly white with only a smattering of blacks, orientals and Mexican-Americans enrolled.

BITS AND PIECES — BARTD has awarded a line contract for the rapid transit system between Balboa Park station and the Daly City-SF boundary. . . . Girl Scout troop 140 and its leader, Lois Manbert, was praised by the City Council this week for their contributions toward beautifying the city by cleaning up the area around the Parkview Clubhouse while earning a merit badge.

EYE-SPY DEPARTMENT Feelers out for construction of another deluxe mobile home park near the Cow Palace. Already a multi-million $$$ apartment complex going in across both sides of the border. . . . Lotsa activity going on at the old missile site across from the Olympic Club. THE MARQUEE

By Barbara Bladen

Puerto Rican-born guitarist Jose Feliciano had the audience bouncing up and down in its seat like a yo-yo last weekend at Circle Star Theater. And guess who was in there screaming and clapping like a stage-struck schoolgirl!

He comes to our generation via Spanish Harlem, but he could be the Messiah by the way his peers reacted. And for good reason. The guy is a fantastic musician and superb entertainer. He does things with a guitar, like imitating drums, church bells, marching soldiers and cannon shots (in his third encore) and all but incites people to riot with his poignant blues singing, reminiscent of Ray Charles, with a touch of Johnny Mathis and Dinah Washington. They couldn't stay in their seats, as spontaneous shouts of "Viva Jose" and "Yeh, Man, Yeh," assaulted the cool, composed and thoroughly ingratiating blind performer stationed on a high stool in center stage.

For me the night was only great. First of all, I really dig his singing, but more than that, I sensed a tremendous rapport between him and the young people who applauded every song in the first two bars of the introduction.

ANALYZING HERO-WORSHIP is admitting a sense of loneliness about the man, his compelling drive to communicate and his earthy, unleashed emotional feeling for lyrics and cadence.

He does all the contemporary songs well, from "Sunny" to "California Dreamin'" (my favorite) through to "Light My Fire" and "High Heel Sneakers." There is a longing, a reaching out for the unattainable about his singing that breaks me up, stomps on the pieces and assembles me all together again, in time for the next song. As many times as I've heard "Phoenix," his is the most soul-searching.

But to label him merely a singer, or song interpreter is not doing the man justice. He's a consummate musician, tuning his instrument half a dozen times in the course of a melody to get different effects out of the strings. On "Mama Don't Allow," he tuned to Hawaiian guitar, Spanish guitar, imitated a bass and drums and held everyone spellbound with a classical rendition of "Malaguena" and "Black Orpheus" instrumentations.

His favorite Spanish lyrics is touching and beautiful, and he includes Mexican songs in his repertoire.

Teachers Fighting Back on Ousters

By WILL E. THOMAS

The president of a Jefferson High School District teacher organization, branding administrators — Superintendent Edward D. Morgan in particular — as "incompetents," Thursday described charges that led to the dismissal Tuesday of one teacher and the intended firing of another as "trumped up" and "ridiculous."

William Curran, American Federation of Teachers' Local 1481, also charged at a Thursday press conference on the Jefferson High School campus that "the administration and school board are trying to solve complex and difficult problems through witch-hunt tactics," a phrase used in a specially-prepared news release that was circulated to members of the press at the 3:15 p.m. session.

Curran lashed out at the principals of Jefferson and Thornton High Schools and at district as well as trustees, for their roles in dismissing Thornton High teacher, David Englund, and for issuing formal papers citing the trustees, intent to dismiss veteran English teacher Eugene Lipson.

The AFT leader indicated an immediate walkout of teachers was not anticipated; that the union will seek first to gain the support of the community.

There were some indications that some students were creating a somewhat tense atmosphere on the Jefferson campus.

Both school and union officials confirmed this, but neither could predict whether or not the youngsters actually would walk away from classrooms like many did during a previous AFT strike.

Contacted Thursday, two of those mentioned most frequently among the AFT allegations, Morgan and Jefferson Principal Ed Cereghino, declined comment.

The firing of Englund and the impending action against Lipson represent the first formal actions brought against teachers in the district, according to AFT spokesmen.

It was acknowledged, however, that in the past certain instructors have been urged to resign, and have.

Reading from a prepared statement that only slightly touched upon the items contained in the formal Local 1481 news release, Curran accused Superintendent Morgan of "using the teachers as scapegoats for his own incompetency."

"Unfitness of Service" Lipson has been charged by Morgan with "unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for service and refusal to obey the reasonable regulations prescribed by the governing board."

He had been counseled and warned concerning "the conduct of his classes, adherence to curriculum and the teaching and discussion of matters inappropriate to or beyond the scope of his classes and/or the high school," Morgan stated.

More specifically, Lipson is alleged to have permitted the "preparation and posting in his classroom" of collages "which were beyond any curriculum for any of his classes, which were completely inappropriate to display in a classroom, which would generally be considered beyond the standards for materials to be presented and discussed in high school classrooms, and which demonstrated a lack of judgment and responsibility necessary for a teacher."

No one has been able to describe the collage. Its removal from the classroom was not condemned by the AFT at the news meeting.

School officials will not comment on it and Curran admitted "the collage is out of our hands — no one has seen it."

The AFT spokesman said the collage was prepared in a class conducted by student teachers. Lipson never saw the collage, Curran said.

"Mr. Lipson was not even in the class when this took place," Curran said, "yet they are charging him with it."

"There's a 15-year teacher giving a great deal of valuable service to the district; they don't even pay him the courtesy of discussing it; they just took it up to the main office and a week later charges were pressed against him."

Curran indicated Lipson attempted to "protect the student teachers."

"Mr. Lipson took the brunt of it on his shoulders, thinking he would be able to explain and take care of the matter," Curran declared.

A series of faculty meetings and a general sizing up of its support will be launched, it was declared.

The AFT leader said his organization plans to meet with small groups of parents, visit the shopping centers and "ring doorbells" in an effort to get the AFT message across.

Englund was fired Tuesday by trustees upon the recommendation of a hearing officer. A public hearing into his dismissal was held April 7 and 9.

Englund was charged with infractions of the rules at Thornton High, which is the district's high school for children with special problems.

"Top Teacher"

Curran charged Englund had been considered an "excellent teacher" until Dr. Floyd Gonella was promoted from Thornton at the beginning of this year's term and Ralph Galloway was seated as principal.

Curran claimed Galloway, who was not available for comment with "chipping away" at Englund's evaluations, and acknowledged that Englund was not considered an excellent teacher by Galloway.

Englund "adopted a curriculum that would fit the interests of the youngsters," Curran said. "He has taken steps to appeal," Curran said.

"They are firing Mr. Lipson, charging him with deviating from curriculum and there has not been an administrator in his room for eight years," Curran alleged.

He later adjusted that to four years.

Neither Lipson nor Englund commented on the situation. Lipson did not attend the press conference and Englund said, "I think I'll wait. I've got some (comments) to make later on."

Curran said the conference was called, "because we as teachers feel the educational establishment in this community is deteriorating at an accelerating rate," and he described the situation presently as having "degenerated to the point of extreme crisis."

He said "we worry about" student unrest and rebellion, dwindling of financial and moral support in the community, and the challenge and criticism of education "from all sides."

Curran chided the administrators for cutting down and cutting back on "promising and innovating programs that have received the attention of the academic community throughout the state."

"They have even been lost completely for lack of administrative support," he told reporters. As a result, Curran explained, "the teachers in this district are frustrated, confused and even frightened."

Additionally, he said, the racial problem, drug problem and illiteracy problem "beset and concern us."

Demoralization has resulted, he claimed, from the dismissal of probationary teaching Englund and the intended firing of Lipson, both of whom Curran called "two of the most creative, energetic teachers."

He said the teachers' group is more than worried and concerned. "It frightens us."

Speaking directly to the charges against Englund, Curran said:

"These charges could easily be leveled against three-quarters of the teachers in the district."

Real Blowup

Curran said he sees the problem as one of an administration's "refusal to deal with the real issues as they exist."

And, he said, this will lead to deterioration of Jefferson High "to the point where we will have a real blowup."

There is "overwhelming support" by students of the AFT-Lipson cause, Curran noted.

A teacher from the one side of the room added, "several black students have been into my room many times today, saying that if Lipson is not reinstated—look out!"

White students, it was pointed out, "pretty much" share the same view, but there is a wider range among them.

Former AFT president Julian Jansen commented that the students are "extremely confused, extremely frustrated and disturbed."

The students were described as "tense" by Curran, but neither he nor Miss Jansen were able to predict whether or not the students would do any more than talk about "walkouts."

Petitions have been circulated among the students, it was asserted, the petitions supporting Lipson.

Miss Jansen said, "San Mateo High blew up. Ravenswood High School has a history, the kids at Poly High School marched, the kids at Jefferson High School have been doing a beautiful job, having a beautiful time. I don't know how much longer they can last."

Skylighting Through College

MEETING customers as Valley Airlines' first stewardess, four-foot-ten-inch Shirley Schutte of San Mateo quickly won the title "mini-stew" and may be America's first co-ed to "skylight" her way through college.

She Just Might Be The Nation's 1st Mini-Stew

By GEORGE GOLDING

Is she the nation's first "mini-stew?"

Shirley Schutte, 22, a San Mateo girl who is a social services major at San Jose State and graduates in June, might be.

One of the requirements of being hired as a stewardess on Valley Airlines, operating out of San Jose, is that the girls be "five feet tall or under."

Shirley is four-feet ten.

A 1965 graduate of Aragon High, she has been a San Mateo resident for a dozen years.

She got the job at Valley Airlines in February, through the college placement office.

Valley insisted on its "stews" being petite for the planes they operate as a "third-level" air carrier.

Shirley may go on to win a teacher's credential next year, and is working to finance her education.

Each day, she makes the 4 p.m. flight to Fresno and return. During spring vacation, she flew trips to Reno and other locations served by Valley.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Schutte, 418 Iowa Drive, San Mateo, Shirley has also done television commercials for the airline, which have appeared on local stations in Salinas, Fresno, and Reno.

And, according to her boss, she may just be the nation's very first "mini-stew."

Californians Die

More Californians have been killed in the Vietnam war than men from any other state. The total number is 3,087. This equals sixteen deaths per 1,000,000 population. It is also 739 more than the total number killed from any other state.

New York, the second most populated, has had 2,348 of her sons killed for deaths per 100,000. 1,845 men from Texas have been killed while 1,780 from Pennsylvania, 1,673 from Ohio, 1,587 from Illinois, 1,418 from Michigan and 1,065 from Florida have died.

But New Mexico has had the largest proportion of losses in relation to population, followed by Oklahoma and West Virginia — Alaska has had the fewest deaths and the smallest proportion.

This information comes from a chart from an article in the current U.S. News and World Report. The article observes that half of the dead were men too young to vote — 1,948 were age 18; 5,133 were 19; 8,033 were 20 and age 18; 5,133 were 19; 8,033 were 20 and nine 17. The total men under 21 who have died in Vietnam is 15,123.

The U.S. news article points out that the big majority of the men who have died in the Vietnam conflict had been in uniform just a year or two — 10,563 under one year; 10,772 under two years.

The figure shows that the number of Negro deaths is about the same ratio as the number of Negroes in the service — of a total of 28,561 men who were slain, 3,897 were Negroes. This is 13.6 per cent of the men slain by enemy action.

Meanwhile the war goes on and millions of persons are effected. Among them non-combatants who are slain on the streets or wounded and left to die or worse to live in endless misery.

"Love to Vietnam" is the story of two who suffer. It records a romance between a victim of the atomic bomb that fell on Nagasaki and a girl who was burned by napalm in Vietnam.

The ravages of war have left these two not bitter but woefully in need of love. "Don't become like me!" the boy from Nagasaki writes to the girl. We young people can't exist, for no one wishes to see the grimaces of atomic war nor he grimaces of napalm war — it is very hideous we must admit. Also it makes people feel uncomfortable, perhaps guilty, especially those whose airmen were compelled to cause said atrocities (word compelled is important. Individual air-

Mail Promotions

Better Business Bureaus throughout the country receive many protests from irate recipients of mail promotions. Many calls are from people who are angry that the Bureaus seem to do nothing about this big prize sweepstakes used to promote sales of various products.

In answer, the intent to commit fraud must be first proven before a firm can be indicted. Better Business Bureau can do nothing when promotions apparently comply with postal regulations.

However, the chances of winning a major prize for which a winning number has already been pre-selected are remote. For example, consider a contest which has a top prize of $10,000 and is promoted by mailings to 1,000,000 persons. According to Advertising Age, the chances are a million to one that the top prize will not be redeemed.

The deal was too good for many buyers to pass up! Prospects received cards from a home movie manufacturer informing them they had won a free camera, projector, screen and lights; and in addition, they would get 600 rolls of film—including the processing—for only $1.00 each.

After two years of the promotion, the company and various outlets, along with their principals and salesmen have been indicted by a Federal Grand Jury for representing equipment valued at $500-$600 when the retail value was approximately $280 and, would have to be paid for rather than furnished at no cost as claimed.

According to the salesman you get a free stereo. Many inquire, "How can the stereo be free when I am paying too much for the records?" What the salesman really means is that you get the stereo free provided records, which cost several dollars more than if purchased elsewhere, are purchased for a year or so.

By the end of the year or length of the program, the buyer has actually paid for his stereo by over-paying for the records.

Some sewing machine companies offer the same deal. The machine is said to be "free" if the customer contracts to buy a cabinet or service policy.

men, soldiers etc., I do not hate, only their government.) No wonder said government refuses exit visas to Vietnam's disfigured victims. They don't wish the outer world to see what they have done to the most innocent creature on earth—to its little children and young boys and girls.

"Love to Vietnam" is something new in the area of war novels—it is bittersweet. It is emotional fiction at its best. The author is Edith Morris whose war novels have been published in twenty-four languages.

Skyline College Applications For Admission Available

Applications for admissions to Skyline College now are available in the counseling departments at all the San Mateo County high schools and at the college, Rex Butler, Skyline College Registrar, announced today.

"Skyline College will be limited to 200 daytime students this coming semester. Indications are that we shall reach that enrollment quota. Therefore, we urge all persons planning to attend Skyline College to submit their admissions form as soon as possible. All applications are being accepted and processed on a first come-first served basis," Butler declared.

Persons interested in enrolling for the forthcoming Fall term should write or call the registrar's office at: Skyline College, 3300 College Drive, San Bruno.

Registration, admissions, and testing information are included in the application for admissions form.

Counseling and registration for regular daytime students will be held from August 10 through September 4. Special students with one class only will register on August 29 at 9 a.m. Classes will begin on September 10.

Those persons planning to attend the Skyline College evening program will register at the first class session during the week of September 10 through September 12.

Gridiron Lighting Studied

A desire to light the Westmoor High School football field again was expressed — and cost figures outlined — April 22 Trustees of the Jefferson High School District agreed to study a complete report on the findings of a committee formed last year to probe the lighting possibilities.

Presenting the plan was Candy Souza, chairman of the Westmoor student-faculty football light committee.

Miss Souza, a student, admitted the committee workers were looking well toward the future; the lights wouldn't be up in their time at Westmoor.

Cost, according to PG&E estimates, could range from $22,000 to $25,000, for the lights, Miss Souza pointed out, and that electricity would approximate $13 a game.

Currently, night football and other athletic events must be played in South San Francisco. As a result most of the local contests are daytime affairs.

Adventure Day On Mt. Bruno

The Jefferson Elementary School Playground is conducting a picnic and adventure day on San Bruno Mountain, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

The hike and picnic will be held on Saturday from 12 noon to 3 p.m. $10.00 per person. $5.00 for children under 12.

Salads, Molded or Vegetable, Can Be Spruced Up with Cranberries

Salads, salads everywhere and all are good to eat. But, let's face it, some are better than others! So if you would like your salads to be above average... more attractive in appearance and with a tangy piquant flavor... try using cranberries! For cranberries are definitely here to stay since they first appeared on the American table with the American Indian and they've been growing in popularity ever since.

Molded salads? Use the cranberry-orange relish or cranberry whole berry sauce as one of the ingredients. They go beautifully with gelatin salads in combinations of fruits, cream cheese or cottage cheese. Or, substitute cranberry juice cocktail for part of the water in your gelatin mixture for molds. Decorate your molds with cut-outs from drained cranberry jelly sauce.

Vegetable salads? Try cranberry juice cocktail in that salad dressing. I gives that extra special touch that lifts a salad into the gourmet class by adding color and flavor.

Meat-salads? Potato salads? Fish or fowl salads? Be inventive with your cranberry products and come up in the winner's circle every time you serve a salad!

Cut out, with a 2-inch round cookie cutter. Roll and cut out remaining half of the dough the same way. Place fairly close together on a buttered cookie

sheet. Bake in a preheated

A New Confrontation for City of San Francisco—Crab Cooking Olympics

The great crab cooking confrontation has assumed international proportions! Seafood cities from coast to coast are rising to San Francisco's crab bait. Not only in this country, but in Canada.

We refer, of course, to the first Annual Crab Cooking Olympics being held May 19-20 at Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco.

Regional rivalries reached the boiling point some months ago when Baltimore proclaimed itself the crab cuisine capital of the world.

San Francisco took exception and challenged Baltimore, and any other crab-happy U.S. community which cared to compete to a cook-off.

When Victoria, British Columbia, came up with an entrant, the Olympics sponsors, the San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau and the local Fishermen's Wharf Merchants Association, decided to throw the kitchen doors open to Canadian contenders.

So far, ten seafood centers have been heard from.

Baltimore, Md.; Clatsop County, Ore.; Chicago, Ill.; Houston, Tex.; Savannah, Ga.; Wilmington, Del.; Victoria, B.C., and Anaheim, Monterey and Oakland, Calif. have submitted the names of chefs rash enough to want to cross sauce pans with the San Francisco designate, Art Davis of the Wharf's Exposition Fish Grotto.

They will vie for gastronomic honors in five categories: Crab Mornay, Crab Cioppino or Bouillabaisse, Devile Crab, Crab Louie or Crab Salad and a specialty of their choice.

The winner will carry off the Master Chef de Cuisine Award. In addition, awards will be made in each of the five classes of entry.

The visiting chefs will be the guests of the San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau during the two-day crustacean cooking classics. They will bring their own crab meat and take to the stoves in a dozen or so Fisherman's Wharf restaurants at 9:30 a.m. Monday, May 19.

Their chefs-d'oeuvre will be judged by a panel of eminent food experts. The judges are James A. Beard, best-selling cookbook author and Gourmet Magazine contributor; food editors Annabelle Post of Sunset Magazine, Eleanor Lee of the Washington Post and Martha Lee of the Oakland Tribune, and Madelin Severson, associate editor, Institutions Magazine, Chicago.

The victors will be announced at an awards luncheon on Tuesday, May 20.

Already sharpening their recipes for culinary combat are chefs Dave Gordon, Gordon's Restaurant, Baltimore; Charles Miles, Clatsop County, Ore.; Louis Szathmary, The Bakery, Chicago; Granny Harbor, Chez Orleans Restaurant, Houston; William Morganstern, Sign of the White Hart Restaurant, Savannah; Louis Finamore, Empress Hotel, Victoria; Jack Sullivan, Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim; Edouard Platel, Del Monte Lodge, Monterey, and Guy Holt, Sea Wolf Restaurant, Oakland. Mrs. Molly Carruthers, food editor of The (Wilmington) News-Journal, will participate as an honorary chef.

New Ideas For Pizzas Are Tried

Since the end of World War II, American kitchens have undergone what might be termed an Italian renaissance. Both in restaurants and in homes, foods which feature tomato sauces, delicately flavored with basil or robustly accented with oregano, Italian sausages, fish and cheese, have come to figure more and more prominently in American menus.

A few short years ago, pizzas were practically unheard of on this side of the Atlantic. Today, they are almost as well known as two earlier Italian specialties, spaghetti and macaroni. Originally, the term pizza was applied to any bakery product which was round and flat. As time progressed, however, the word became a synonym for large flat pastries covered with assorted aromatic and savory foods.

A new idea in pizzas, which is rapidly catching hold of the American fancy, returns to the original meaning of pizza and takes advantage of bakery English muffins for the round, flat base. It also takes advantage of the convenience of canned salmon for a colorful, tender topping.

Salmon pizzas make an ideal lunch or supper snack at all times of the year, but especially now during the last few weeks of cold weather when hot nutritious luncheons are the order of the season. They appeal to young and old, but especially to the cook who can prepare them in a few minutes from ingredients in the refrigerator and the supply shelf — individual servings for one or for many.

Canned salmon is a convenience product that you can count on for many a quick meal, and when you serve salmon you know you are giving your family the best in balanced nutrition and flavor.

SALMON PIZZAS

- (Serves 4)
- 4 Pre-split English muffins, toasted
 - 1 4-ounce can pizza sauce
 - 1 1-pound can salmon, drained and flaked
 - 2 tablespoons minced onion
 - Freshly ground black pepper
 - 2 tablespoons olive oil
 - Oregano
 - 4 ounces Mozzarella cheese
 - Grated Parmesan
- Toast English muffins and spread each with pizza sauce. Top pizza sauce with a thick layer of flaked salmon. Sprinkle salmon with minced onion, freshly ground pepper, a little olive oil and oregano. Top with a slice of Mozzarella cheese and sprinkle with grated Parmesan. Broil until cheese is hot and bubbling, or bake in a preheated 350 degrees F. oven for 15 to 20 minutes until cheese is melted. Garnish with parsley, radishes and olives and serve piping hot.

Molasses Snaps for Their Treat

This recipe makes dozens of delicious cookies that keep well.

- Red Apples Molasses Snaps
- MOLASSES SNAPS
- 2 cups unsifted flour
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons apple-pie spice
 - 1/2 cup solid white shortening, at room temperature
 - 1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
 - 1/2 cup dark molasses
 - 1 egg
- In a large mixing bowl thoroughly stir together 1 1/2 cups of the flour, baking soda, salt and spice. Add shortening, brown sugar, and molasses and egg. With electric mixer at medium speed, beat until smooth and blended — about 2 minutes. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup flour to blend. Cover dough and chill at least 1/2 hour. Divide into 4 portions. On well floured pastry cloth, with well floured stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out 1 portion of dough at a time (keep remaining refrigerated) very thin (1/16 to 1/8 inch). Cut with floured 2-inch round cookie cutter. Place about 1 inch apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned — 8 to 10 minutes. Let stand a few seconds, then remove with wide spatula to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes about 8 1/2 dozen.

Melt-Away Marshmallow Center Dinner Rolls Turned Out A Winner

MINNEAPOLIS — Crescent dinner rolls with a melt-away marshmallow center are one of America's new baking sensations. Crescent Puffs by Mrs. Edna M. Holmgren of Hopkins, Minn., recently were named "best of Bake-Off" at Pillsbury's Bake-Off 20.

The crescent dinner roll recipe was one of 3 divisional grand prize winners taking top place in the refrigerated fresh dough division. Crescent dinner roll recipe was one of 3 divisional grand prize winners taking top place in the refrigerated fresh dough division. Crescent dinner rolls are wrapped around cinnamon and sugar coated marshmallows to make the treat: the crescent dough puffs up during baking as the marshmallows melt away, leaving a rich cinnamon center.

Top winner in the convenience mix division was Mrs. Earl Wyman of Pembina, N.D., and her Very Berry Lemon Cake. Lemon batter cake mix for convenience, yogurt for moisture and richness, and canned or fresh blueberries for added taste are combined into an unfrosted bundt cake which is served with a blueberry sauce.

A One Step Chocolate Roll Up won grand prize in the flour division for Mrs. Marlin C. Senne of Thompson, Iowa. Chocolate cake and a coconut-pecan filling are baked together, then rolled-up jelly roll fashion to make a quick and convenient version of a favorite dessert.

Runner-up prizes of $2,000 in the three divisions went to Mrs. Donaphin A. Schlunkert, Jr., of China Lake, Calif.; Mrs. William S. Bradford of Overland Park, Kan.; and Mrs. Kenneth McGrath of Salisbury, Md.

Mrs. Schlunkert's Cookie Crust Pecan Pie (in the refrigerated fresh dough division) features butterscotch nut slice 'n' bake cookie dough and instant butterscotch pudding mix in a dessert which combines pecan pie and a butterscotch cookie crust.

Mrs. Bradford's Cheesy Garlic Hot Roll Braid (in the convenience mix division) uses hot roll mix and spices for a hot bread filled with a buttery, garlic, herb and Parmesan cheese combination.

Banana, Perhaps Oldest Fruit Known, First Grew in Malay

Some authorities say the banana, perhaps one of the oldest fruits known to man, is native to Asia and probably first grew in the Malay Archipelago. Legend called the banana "fruit of the wise men" so named because "the sages of India reposed in its shade and refreshed themselves with its fruit." Today a major fruit in world commerce, grown in all moist tropical countries, the first recorded commercial shipment of bananas to the United States was from Cuba to New York early in the 1800s.

Central and South American countries export the bulk of the fine mellow yellow to us. Done up in a nifty package by Mother Nature, the golden banana has a wide assortment of nutrients including vitamin C and enjoys great popularity as one of our most satisfying fruits.

Banana boats sail into American ports all year long. Bananas should ripen at room temperature. When ripe they may be refrigerated. Bananas with any considerable amount of green are not ripe enough to eat. Many like them best when the skin is all yellow and freckled with brown. If you're looking for a glorious new spring outfit for bananas, french fry them with a shower of cornflake crumbs. Banana Chocolate Cream Pie belongs in the "too good to be true" category.

FRENCH FRIED BANANAS
4 medium-sized green-tipped bananas
Fresh lemon juice
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup cornflake crumbs (approximately)
Peel bananas; brush with lemon juice. Dip first in egg, then in cornflake crumbs. Deep fat fry in salad oil or vegetable shortening 3-4 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with grilled ham steak, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

Salad Mold Uses Ground Variety Meat

When the warm, lazy days of spring arrive, let a main dish salad take over the important entree role at luncheon and supper. There's nothing more refreshing!

One of the most delightful of salads can be made with a variety meat, ground smoked tongue. After this meat, with its unusually appealing flavor, has been served sliced, hot or cold, there's usually enough left to make several cups of ground meat. Use it for this salad, advises a meat authority.

JELLIED SMOKED TONGUE
3 cups ground, cooked smoked tongue
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
2 1/2 cups hot beef stock or bouillon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Sliced, unpeeled cucumbers
Soak gelatin in cold water
Dissolve gelatin in hot beef stock or bouillon. Add lemon juice, sugar, onion and Worcestershire sauce. Chill until slightly thick. Mix tongue, green pepper, parsley, celery and mayonnaise and add to thickened gelatin. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on platter and circle with cucumber slices. 8 to 10 servings.

The Black Sea is black because of a high concentration of hydrogen sulphide. The Red Sea gets its red hue from the recurring bloom of small algae. Russia's White Sea earned its name from the ice that covers it most of the year. The Yellow Sea derives its color from mud that rivers carry into it.

Daly City Action Against Oil Firms

The Daly City Council last week approved a resolution asking the Attorney General's office to represent the city in a massive lawsuit against seven major California oil companies.

All the companies named in the civil anti-trust action are connected with the manufacture of asphaltic petroleum products.

These products are used in road building and road maintenance, according to Daly City attorney Albert Polonsky.

In order to qualify for legal assistance from the Attorney General, a city must have used at least 3,500 tons of the asphaltic mixture over the last ten years.

Polonsky said Daly City had exceeded this figure by far. In the past three years alone, the city has repaved the major portion of its roads, accounting for thousands of tons of the material.

The complaint, expected to be filed by the Attorney General, will charge that "unknown to the plaintiffs and continuing to the present time, certain manufacturers engaged in an unlawful course of conduct in violation of the federal antitrust laws, with the result that public purchasers... paid more for such products than they would have paid if lawful competitive conditions had prevailed."

These alleged unlawful practices affected virtually all sales to public entities in the state during what the Attorney General calls "the relevant period."

The defendants to be named in this suit, according to deputy attorney general Harold J. Tomin, are Standard Oil Company of California; Chevron Asphalt Company; Union Oil Company of California; Shell Oil Company; Douglas Oil Company of California; Witco Chemical Corporation; and Edgington Oil Refineries, Inc.

Governmental entities (cities, counties, etc.) purchase asphaltic products in two ways: Asphalt or a mixture of asphalt and aggregate is purchased directly by the entity from a manufacturer or middleman; or purchases are made through contracts with a third party for the construction and maintenance of roads.

A particular city or town may have transactions of both kinds.

In either case, since the entity paid for the products involved, it is entitled to recover any damages suffered as a result of the "restraint on competition."

Tomin explained in a recent letter to North County city councils.

Tomin set the deadline for council resolutions asking aid of his offices at no later than May 16.

Earlier last week, the South San Francisco city council passed a resolution seeking the Attorney General's help in the matter.

Escapee Is Injured In Crash

An escaped San Mateo County Jail prisoner made a u-turn in front of the San Bruno police station Monday, and began a 90-mile-an-hour chase.

San Bruno Police Officer Paul Esposito happened to see the car making its turn, and gave chase.

U-turns are illegal at that point on El Camino Real.

Within minutes, cars from Burlingame and Millbrae were joining in, and the car driven by Robert A. Galleguillos slammed into a huge Eucalyptus tree at Ray Drive in Burlingame, approximately four miles from where the run had started.

Galleguillos, 18, 2421 Toyon Way, San Bruno, was described by police as an escapee from a County Jail honor camp near La Honda April 22.

He had been arrested January 27, and sentenced to six months in jail on charges of possessing marijuana and possession and sale of dangerous drugs.

Police said it took their officers and Burlingame firemen some 10 minutes to pry Galleguillos loose from the car's wreckage.

Then he was taken to Peninsula Hospital, bleeding from numerous minor wounds.

While a staff nurse, Marie Liston, was checking his belongings, during admission procedures, she came across a plastic roll of apparent narcotics in one pocket, police said. The material was turned over to sheriff's officers. Doctors said Galleguillos had fresh needle marks on his arm.

He was transferred to County General Hospital, under custody of the Sheriff's office, after emergency care.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS...

By Alice Reichert

Last week, the third quarter edition of Tiger Tales was released to the Terra Nova student body. The big surprise in this issue was the winner of the Tiger Tales sponsored contest which decided who was Terra Nova's prettiest girl.

pretty girl featured in this issue is Swedish Birgit Hagberg, an American Field Service exchange student who spent the week of February 8-16 with the H. L. Dryden family. The story was written by Assistant News Editor Anne Dryden, Birgit's Bay Area sister. A story on teen driving, its truisms and fallacies, is written by Co-Editor-in-Chief Joanne Gribble. A picture story on T.N.'s latest look, pants on campus for girls, is by photographer Ken Berland. Rich Jasso, who is not a member of the journalism class, and who is one of T.N.'s known "reformed" drug abusers, wrote his reactions to the visit of Nicki Cruz, a nationally known reformed "hood" who paid a visit to Terra Nova to speak to the student body.

Also in this issue: the five students who have learned what it's like on the teacher's side of the classroom, through being a teacher's assistant for freshmen remedial English classes, by Anne Dryden; a picture presentation of the annual Spirit Week by Ken Berland; a new cartoon feature by senior Jack Frydenlund; Linda Mar's still young coffee house, the Lavender Mushroom, by this writer; the adventures of freshman Mako Haggerty during his stay on an Eskimo island, by Assistant Feature Editor Steve Kenney; and a full nine-page section on T.N. sports.

Tiger Tales is available at both lunches at school in Deca Den, the school store, for 25 cents with a student body card, and 50 cents without it. It is also available for public consumption at several Pacifica stores for 50 cents. Ours is still the only high school magazine in the Bay Area, so get your copy now!

Acrylic Art Class Slated

Pacifica's Community Cultural Coordinating Committee is sponsoring a six-week painting class in acrylics starting today.

SSF and Westmoor In Track Windup

An interesting confrontation between quantity and quality will determine the dual meet championship of the North Peninsula League track and field season next Friday afternoon.

It is on that fateful day that unbeaten South San Francisco squares off against similarly unbeaten Westmoor. Both teams have stormed over five consecutive NPL opponents to date and are equally optimistic about their chances in the finale.

South San Francisco has the edge over its Daly City rival on front-line performers, but Westmoor holds a slight edge in depth, so the pivotal meet could be a fight down to the mile relay.

While Westmoor took the day off yesterday, South San Francisco tuned up for the biggie by slaughtering undermanned Half Moon Bay, 100-30. The best performance of the afternoon came in the long jump, where double winner Ray Dutton leaped 21-10 to break a South S.F. school record of 21-7 1/2 that had been on the books since 1946.

Mary Ashby's troops competed on two fronts this afternoon. A contingent of seven Warriors entered the Downey Games at Modesto while 13 others competed in the Blossom Hill Relays at San Jose.

S.M. High Wins MPL Title In a Dramatic Swim Finish

Miracles do happen and San Mateo High School swim coach Tom Holman will attest to the veracity of that phrase.

The Bearcats, getting a huge assist from upstart Mills, won the 1969 Mid-Peninsula League championship on Friday in a dramatic meet which was decided by a half-point in the final event of the day between the second and third finishing teams.

"Up until yesterday I thought that Hillsdale was a shoe-in for the crown after the Knights went unbeaten in their dual meet season," stated Holman. "Then, after both Hillsdale and San Mateo qualified 13 swimmers each, I thought that we had an outside chance to salvage a tie for the championship," the jubilant mentor added.

"But as it turned out, San Mateo owes a great debt of thanks to Mills, who rose up and made it possible for us to win the title," Holman replied.

San Mateo tallied 76 points, while Mills finished second with 58 1/2 and Hillsdale scored 58.

The victory in the finals was worth three points to the Bearcats, which added to their dual meet season total of five points based on their five MPL victories, gave them a total of eight points.

Hillsdale, which had six points going into yesterday's finals, received only one point for finishing third and ended up with a total of seven points and second place. Mills finished in third place.

ished in third place in the final standings with six markers. Had the Knights finished second they would've ended up co-champions with San Mateo.

The lead exchanged hands five times, with the eventual champions gaining command for good after the backstroke. "Doug Payne was magnificent for us, as was freshman Kip Bennett, sophomore Paul DeMoss, and Bob Johnson," noted Holman.

Payne was San Mateo's only double winner, annexing the 100 fly in an excellent 59.7 seconds and then coming back to win the 200 free in 1:55.0.

The only new record was set in the 100 backstroke where Roger Larson of Aragon eclipsed the old mark of 1:00.5, set by Craig Venters in 1966, with a 59.3 effort.

The finals also marked the finish of MPL competition for Cap's Pete Verity's brilliant prep career. Verity, who won two events each year as a freshman, sophomore and junior in the finals, didn't disappoint his backers with another double yesterday.

Maitre'd Joseph Mollich at the Moonraker restaurant (the fabulous spot for cuisine specialists located in picturesque Rockaway Beach and owned by Pacifica Mayor Nick Gust) is well versed in his work, having served for many years with such organizations as Hilton and Del Webb. . . .

Senior Hernandez, owner-chef of the Sirloin Steak Pit in Daly City, features not only the wildest steak sandwiches during the lunch hour, but the most delicious barbecued chicken . . .

The Iron Horse restaurant owners, Sam Marconi and Leo Giorgetti, invite you to help them celebrate their Fourteenth year as one of San Francisco's favorite dining out spots. Enjoy the superb cuisine of Chef George Valenzuela, who has been with the Iron Horse for its fourteen successful years. Whether it's a banquet, cocktails before or after the theater, luncheon or dinner, everything is scaled for your pleasure. . . .

Jim Pederson continues to attract patrons by the droves to Dell'Osse's restaurant in San Mateo with his piano bar renditions.

The Peninsula Horse Racing Association will be operating a Quarter Horse Night racing meet at Bay Meadows Race Track in San Mateo Friday, May 2 through June 21. First time for the first race will be 7:45 p.m.; Tuesday through Saturday. The last race will be over at approximately 11 p.m. Infra-red heaters are installed in the stands for your comfort, making this an ideal site for dinner and cocktails before and after the races. If you have a large group which would like to make a "night of it" at the track, contact Hazel Medaugh at 341-1067 or 345-1061. Business houses as well as social groups are invited. Howard N. Gilmore is president of the Peninsula Horse Racing Association; Spencer Childers, vice president; and Dr. William J. Ward, secretary and treasurer and general manager. . . . A breakfast bargain: Hickory smoked bacon, a large ranch egg, three buttermilk pancakes smothered in syrup and butter, and all the coffee you want at Foster's, located across from the Hillsdale Shopping Center.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

BY LLOYD JOHNSON

HENRY SOLOMON, president and general manager of the Foster's restaurant empire (San Francisco and the East Bay) also sparks the operation of the thriving Longley's restaurant. Located on the Battery Street side of the Golden Gateway Plaza (west of the Alcoa Building) Longley's is truly one of San Francisco's dining show places. A branch of Fosters Lunch System Ltd., with a completely different food and beverage presentation, Longley's invites your patronage for breakfast, luncheon or dinner. Also enjoy the John Sackas original art collection which is on display in the restaurant.

The Skylark (Thirty-seventh Avenue in San Mateo) is now under the new management of Richard Lewis and Tony Monmouth. This "know-how" duo introduces San Mateo's first "family-style" all you can eat, restaurant. The fare is only $3.50 for "all you can eat," and the choice of entrees include wine. Serving dinner seven days a week; lunches, Monday through Friday. Also enjoy the hospitality in the cocktail lounge. Sad tidings from Margie Brandon, the organist at Baron's Lounge on Powell street. Her plans for April in Paris had to be postponed because everyone accused her of wanting to leave town for fear of the earthquakes. However, just in case, she shipped all her dogs to Canada. Lew Lehr's is one of the very few restaurants in San Francisco where you will never hear: "Sorry, this is not my table." The entire staff assigns your waitress to be sure service is always exceptionally excellent.

They might have commemorated the '06 Fire-Earthquake in San Francisco last week, but down in Redwood City at Scotty Campbell's restaurant Mary Lou Francis put on a show of her own. With a collection of "earthquake tunes," including a name-your-record collection of Enrico Caruso renditions and a rare assortment of old photographs, Scotty Campbell's guests enjoyed an evening of nostalgic entertainment. Recordings were played, the crowd sang, and the cash register made earthquake rumbles 'til early morn . . . The Shirt Tail Palo Alto's newest luxury restaurant-lounge, takes its name from a famed early California gold mine and saloon. This is a show place must when dining and winning special guests . . . With Night Racing scheduled to make its Quarter Horse debut at Bay Meadows May 2 through June 21, look for Vinca Licata's Italian and Sea food restaurant to be doing a zooming business. This is where many of the horse set linger before and after the races . . . Last week, the new owners of San Mateo's Pic N' Pan completed a major renovation in the way of a new charcoal Broiler Pit. The new installation will insure steaks and ribs to be prepared to your taste. New hours are 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday; 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sundays.

Ordination Rites At Church

ROBERT SIEKMANN

Robert G. Siekmann will be ordained into the Christian ministry Sunday at 4 p.m. at Westlake Lutheran Church, 222 Avalon Drive.

The Rev. Reuben E. Sorenson, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church of Des Moines, Wash., will be the ordinator, representing Dr. Gaylord Falde, president of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Thomas J. Umacht, pastor of Westlake Lutheran, will deliver the ordination address and conduct the service. Leaders of the Christian community will participate in the service.

Siekmann attended public schools in San Francisco, graduating from Washington High school in 1959. After receiving an A.A. degree in 1961 from City College of San Francisco, he attended the University of California at Berkeley where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1963.

In the fall of 1963 he began his theological education at Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary in Berkeley, California. He received his Bachelor of Divinity degree there in 1967. Since then he has been in the Master of Theology program at Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary.

He served his year of internship at Grace Lutheran Church in Des Moines, Wash.

Siekmann has accepted a call to be pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Ferndale and will begin his service there on May 18.

Missionary To Speak At Temple Judea

Bishop Edward Crowther will be the featured speaker at Temple Judea on May 9, during its first anniversary celebration. The commemoration is being held in conjunction with this year's Israel Bond drive.

Formerly Dean of the Anglican Church in South Africa, he incurred the wrath of its government because of his militant opposition to apartheid. His defiance of the government's repression of the South African Blacks won international recognition in Time Magazine and the United States Senate. Bishop Crowther addressed the Pacer in Tarris II Conference in Geneva and the Apartheid Committee of the United Nations in a speech distributed throughout the world.

Expelled for his beliefs from South Africa, Bishop Crowther was appointed to the United Nations Mission to Biafra, from which he has just returned.

The Bishop and his new book, "Where Religion Gets Lost In The Church," were recently featured on the Today Show which drew widespread comment.

The annual Uniongram Card Party at Temple Judea will be held May 13, at noon in the Temple's Fellowship Hall.

New PG&E Coast Power Line Proposal

Officials of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company Monday presented revised plans for a high voltage power line through the City of Pacifica, and council members indicated tentative approval of the new design, though formal action was delayed until further information can be obtained on the feasibility of installing all steel poles.

The line, which would serve as the final link connecting substations in Pacifica and Half Moon Bay, would follow a route along Adobe Drive and Crespi Drive, and would enter the city's incorporated area at Valencia and Granada.

PG&E submitted a plan for the 6,000-foot overhead line in 1966, but the original design was rejected by the council.

Under plans submitted Monday, the company has agreed to underground all telephone and cable television lines along the route, as well as "local" PG&E lines, leaving only the high voltage lines on the poles.

This undergrounding will be undertaken at the company's expense "because of the special circumstances," according to John Burton, senior electrical engineer in the utility company's San Francisco office, and there will be no cost to the Pacifica homeowners.

The new lines will initially carry 60,000 volts, but will have a capacity of 115,000 volts for future expansion.

Don Halverson, manager of the PG&E office in Daly City, said the new transmission lines will "help eliminate the possibility of power outages in both Pacifica and Half Moon Bay."

Councilman Rick Wallis commended the company spokesmen on the new design, and said the plans are "a great improvement over the original presentation."

The only objection voiced by Mayor Nick Gust and other council members dealt with the use of wooden poles along some portions of the route.

Gust stated he felt all steel poles should be used to "assure uniformity."

Company spokesmen said the cost of a steel pole is about twice that of a wooden pole, but agreed to install steel poles "if the city insists."

Formal action on the new plans was postponed until the next regular council meeting.

Inspector Jack F. Stuart of the district attorney's Fraud and Fugitive detail said investigation disclosed that Mrs. Cunningham and Robert E. Willhoit, 38-year-old truck driver, failed to report all of his earnings during a 40-month period they were receiving aid for themselves and their five children. A total over payment of $6,740 was calculated.

Mrs. Cunningham pleaded guilty to one of seven counts filed against her. Eight counts against Willhoit were dismissed for lack of evidence.

20th Anniversary Events At Presbyterian Church

A special luncheon will be held following the 11 o'clock worship service in the social hall, at 12:30 p.m., Sunday, prior to the anniversary celebration.

The Rev. John Glasse, founding pastor of Broadmoor's first Protestant church, will be in attendance.

Currently residing near Sacramento, Reverend Glasse commenced his work in the Broadmoor area in 1949. He went from door to door, making inquiry as to the interest in formation of a community church.

In May 1949, the doors to a tiny metal pre-fab building were opened, with 60 members and 25 unaffiliated attendees. Since that time the congregation has increased tenfold.

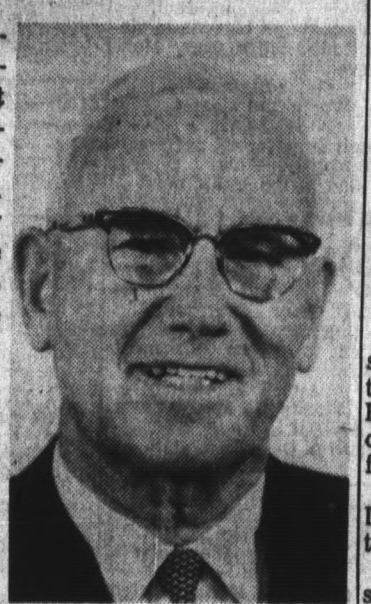

An Education Building with a dual purpose social hall worship center was built in 1952, affording classroom space for the burgeoning Broadmoor Presbyterian congregation and Sunday School.

Before sufficient public school rooms were available at Garden Village School, portions of the church structure were used for elementary grade instruction, and were known as the 87th St. Annex.

In 1955 the congregation voted to construct a sanctuary building in the location of original church, along 87th St. and then part of unincorporated Colma. Completed in 1957 and opened for worship on Palm Sunday of that year, the church steeple rose high above the area, sitting as it was on a little knoll. This was prior to the surrounding apartment buildings which now embrace the church on two sides.

Only two of the original 60 members are still resident in the area and members on the active roll. Mrs. Janet Rizzo, and Mrs. Pat Mattson. Two of the original Board of Elders, the ruling body of the congregation, are expected to be in attendance at the luncheon. They are Dr. Harry Lapp, of San Leandro, and John K. LePine of Milbrae.

The adult choir of the church

will present a special hymn of celebration, with lyrics written for the occasion. The hymn will be sung as a part of the luncheon program.

Kodachrome pictures of Old Testament sites in the Holy Land will be shown today at 7:45 p.m.

These will be shown by the Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Tweedie, who visited Israel and took these pictures last June.

This evening is sponsored through the four Bible Study groups which meet weekly at the church. These groups have been studying the Old Testament. Meetings are held on Monday at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 7:45 p.m. These groups begin with a time of listening to a taped presentation by a seminary teacher on this subject. The discussion leaders are: Bea Hicks, Eunice Brabec, John Rued and Merton Jones.

Rev. and Mrs. Tweedie will show these sights and tell of the significance in places such as Sinai, Beersheba, Hebron, Bethlehem, Jerusalem, Jericho, Shechem, Samaria, and Medig.

This Sunday the twentieth anniversary celebration of the founding of the church will be held. This will be observed at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services which culminates in a Turkey Dinner to be served at 12:30 noon. In charge of the committee on arrangements is Mr. Kenneth Gillespie.

The Rev. Mr. Glasse resigned his pulpit in early 1957, after establishing the church and shepherding the congregation through formative years to the construction of its full physical plant.

Westmoor Park Girls Whip Dads

The Westmoor Park seventh grade girls' softball team lost its first game in two years last week as they were whipped by their fathers, 15 to 10.

Ed Guzman, Lee DeAlba, Dan Tomczak, John Maniscalco, Stan Cartwright, Charlie Miceli, and Robert O'Conner.

The "powder puffs," who will start playing other girls' teams next week, believe that after a few weeks of practice they will be "fully prepared to challenge their fathers once again," a team spokesman said.

The girls have already "demanded" a rematch with their dads at the end of the coming season.

The crowd of spectators at the father-daughter game indicated next outing will prove decisive for the Swinging Swingers from Westmoor Park.

Age-Graded Classes At Coast Church

Sunday at the 9:45 Sunday school hour, at Westside Baptist, Inverness Drive and Hickey Boulevard (Fairmont), Pacifica, 15 age graded classes meet for instruction and fellowship.

At this hour, Pastor A. David Donnelly is conducting a pastor's class for adults and youth.

The "Meet Your Saviour Course," being conducted in Baptist General Conference Sunday Schools throughout Canada and United States is being currently emphasized at Westside Sunday School.

The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the 11 o'clock morning worship hour.

Pastor Donnelly will speak on the topic, "Beyond Comprehension." Special music will be a vocal solo by Roy King, with Mrs. Roy King at the organ.

During the adult worship hour, a service is conducted for boys and girls four through seven years of age by Mr. and Mrs. Phil Dersheim, and other helpers. Also during this hour a nursery is maintained for babies and toddlers.

Woman Told To Repay $3,370 Aid

Colma Creek Flood Project Would Cost $20,000,000

South San Francisco residents heard a gloomy report Friday on chances for an early solution to the Colma Creek flooding problem from the Army Corps of Engineers, county engineers, Congressman Paul N. McCloskey and representatives from the United States Geophysical Survey.

Col. Frank Boerger, officer in charge of the Corps' current study on the Colma Creek Flood Control Project, stated that preliminary estimates indicate the proposed improvements will cost a "staggering" $20 million.

That figure would not include the cost of easements and rights-of-way, which would be borne by the state, Col. Boerger said.

He also said the Corps project, if undertaken, would not be completed before 1976 "at the earliest."

Both Col. Boerger and Congressman McCloskey also noted that there is some doubt the federal project will ever be approved.

Approval of such expenditures depends upon the "ratio of benefit" from the allocation, and this ratio will likely not be favorable because of the high cost of construction of the Colma Creek project, they said.

In any event, the Corps study will not be completed for at least another year-and-a-half, and McCloskey said there is "no chance at all" that the district might obtain federal funds before the Army's "feasibility indication" is completed.

County Flood Control Engineer V. K. Sanders outlined two alternative proposals for construction of the improvements with funds to be raised at the local level.

The two financing possibilities suggested were general obligation bonds, which would require approval by two-thirds of the district's voters, and a "pay as you go" plan, which would be financed through an increase in the ad valorem tax rate.

The latter method would require ten years to raise the $3.5 million which Sanders considers the "minimum outlay" for a satisfactory solution to the flooding problem, though the money would be available in "increments."

Sanders said he is not recommending a local project at this time, but only outlined the alternatives available "if local interests feel they can't wait for the federal project."

Col. Boerger said the drastic increase in the Army's estimate of cost for the project (from $2.2 million in 1961 to $20 million today) is due largely to a reassessment of the "silt factor" in the creek.

He said latest studies indicate the channel for the main creek would have to be constructed to an additional three feet in depth to allow for the accumulation of silt.

Also, the Corps had originally intended to undertake the improvements under its "small projects" program, but residents of the district, which includes South San Francisco and portions of San Bruno, Daly City, Pacifica and the county, requested a more extensive, long-term improvement.

"I must report that there is no hope for an early solution of the problem at the federal level, and there is not guarantee we could even meet the schedule we have outlined," Col. Boerger said.

County supervisors ordered the formation of a committee of city, county and state engineers Friday to study the matter further "with an eye toward undertaking a local project."
